Study Plane Remains

Blame Air Crash On Blast

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Evidence was unfolded Tuesday indicating that a National Airlines DC-8B was blasted from the sky Jan. 6—killing 34 persons—by a sudden dynamite explosion.

And testimony, heard during a formal inquiry by the Civil Aeronautics Board, indicated the blast occurred near the seat occupied by a young New York lawyer, Julian Andrew Frank, who had taken out over a million dollars worth of life insurance in the year prior to the crash.

Up until minutes before the EASTER SEALS will be on the way soon to solicit funds to aid Crippled Children and Adults. The campaign opens now and will last until April 17. Shown here, sending out the requests, are, seated, front, Mrs. Ruth Brown and Clarence Rutt, the latter co-chairman of the Easter Seal cam-investigator for CAB's Bureau of Safety.

Taylor also said nothing was found in examination of the plane engines and propellers to indicate the plane crew had taken any emergency measures prior to the crash. This seemed to indicate that whatever happened to the plane happened suddenly. Radio messages from the plane also indicated nothing untoward had happened minutes before the crash.

Alexander G. Hardy, National Airlines senior vice president, told newsmen a portion of Frank's body was found among the reassembled wreckage only three weeks ago. He said a doctor found part of a leg wedged in a luggage rack opposite Frank's seat. Hardy also said that part of a zipper from a canvas bag Frank was believed to be carrying was found.

Two residents of nearby Bolivia, where most of the shattered plane plunged to earth, told of being awakened and of hearing loud noises. This was about 20 miles from where the plane apparently began breaking up near Kure Beach, N. C.

Zorin Claims Soviets Will Take A-Controls

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said Tuesday, without spelling out details, that his government will accept international controls over nuclear disarmament.

Zorin suggested to the 10-nation disarmament conference that nuclear disarmament could come either early or late in a phased program for complete abolition of weapons of warfare.

Interest was aroused in the Western delegations by the unexpected flexibility the Soviet Union appears to be following in its approach to the nuclear problem.

Offer Theories

Western delegation sources offered various theories as to why Zorin was following this tack. The most generally accepted one was that Zorin was trying to get his government's program for total disarmament within four years accepted as the basis for negotiations rather than the three-stage Western plan which mentions no time limit.

The five Western powers — the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada — could find it difficult to make radical shifts in their own program. The briefs of their delegations are closely tied to expert military device.

Approach Differs

There is a difference of approach, however, in the Western camp. It was spotlighted in a speech by French Delegate Jules Moch.

Moch said France believes that something more comprehensive than a suspension of atomic and hydrogen weapon tests is needed to open the road to nuclear disarmament.

Court Bars Sales Tax On Traded Car

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dauphin County court ruled Tuesday the Commonwealth cannot collect the sales tax on the value of an auto traded in for a new car in an out-of-state purchase.

Judge Homer L. Kreider, in an 11-page opinion, ordered the Revenue Department to refund about $95 to two car owners who were denied tax exemptions for their old autos on new purchases.

The owners are Alice S. Smith of Bristol and Esther K. Grube of Bethlehem. Both appealed on grounds they had been charged the sales tax on the full purchase price of the new cars.

Hits Discrimination

Judge Kreider said denial of exemption of trade-ins on out-of-state purchases is "an outright and unconstitutional discrimination on its face against interstate commerce."

Owners of new cars purchased out of state and brought into Pennsylvania must pay the State sales and use tax. Trade-in exemptions are permitted on cars purchased in Pennsylvania and the owner pays the tax on the difference between the trade-in allowance and the full purchase price.

Lawrence played down his own influence on the delegation and on the convention. It is greatly exaggerated, he said, in referring to a statement made by Sen. John F. Kennedy in Pittsburgh last week.

Kennedy was quoted as saying Lawrence's decision would be of extreme importance to the senator's chances to win the Democratic nomination.

The governor also said he had nothing to do with bringing Sen. W. Stuart Symington to nearby Mechanicsburg for an April 4 speech. In fact, Lawrence said, he has not yet been invited to attend the meeting with the announced presidential hopeful.

Other news conference developments: Educational Study—asked what he expected to come from his special educational study committee in the light of earlier and somewhat fruitless reviews, Lawrence said:

"I wasn't here during those fruitless attempts and I hope this time will be fruitful."

Amish—The governor said the state policy would be to let the Amish and local school officials in Berks and Chester counties settle their own dispute over whether the Amish children must attend a new school.

Senate—Lawrence denied that he was "rough on the Republican-controlled Senate when he charged the GOP with chronic obstructionism of progressive legislation."

The governor said the recent Pittsburgh speech was factual and added:

"All I said was what happened over there in the Senate."

Legislation—Lawrence said he probably will advise the Legislature to adjourn shortly after they reconvene here June 6 on the grounds that the legislators have nothing left to do.

Public Hearing Set On River Planning

PHILADELPHIA—The first of four public hearings on the comprehensive physical plan for developing and utilizing the Delaware River Basin water resources will be held in Philadelphia, N. J., at 10 a. m. April 13, it was announced yesterday.

In announcing the hearing, the Water Resources Assn. of the Delaware River Basin reported the hearing would be held at the Phillipsburg High School.

The plan, under way for more than three years, will cost a total of $2,000,000 and is scheduled for completion in May.

The Water Resources Assn. announced the hearings, to be held by the Army's Corps of Engineers, will be the last time individuals and groups affected by the proposed dams will be able to have their opinions heard before the plan is presented to Congress.

The association announced each hearing will be devoted to an explanation of the projects proposed in the general region of the meeting place.

The fourth hearing will be held May 4, at 10 a. m. at the Sullivan School, Port Jervis, N. Y.

President of the Water Resources Assn. is Charles R. Bensinger, Stroudsburg attorney.

Philadelphia Youth Killed Apparently Innocent Victim Of Revenge Attack By Gang

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 17-year-old white honor student, knifed to death outside his house, apparently was the innocent victim of a revenge attack by a group of Negro boys, police said Tuesday.

A former fellow student at South Philadelphia High School admitted plunging the knife into John A. Campiglia Jr., police reported.

The group confronted Campiglia as he neared his home on his way from school Monday.

"Smash him," one shouted, and a fist hit the white youth in the mouth. Then, in the general scuffle that followed, he was stabbed in the chest.

Chief Inspector John J. Kelly said Norman Wilson Jr., 17, admitted in a signed statement, that he wielded the knife.

Campiglia's father, a night worker at a factory, was reading in his bedroom when he heard the street noise. Only partly dressed, he ran outside and found his only son, lying near the front step.

Arrest Twelve

Twelve boys were arrested, eleven on homicide charges. One was charged with being an accessory after the fact. All were held for a hearing Wednesday.

"As far as we know at this point," said Kelly, "the attack apparently stems from an incident last Thursday when two colored boys got a thumping."

"This apparently ranked the colored boys at Southern High. Apparently they felt they should band together for their own protection."

Innocent Victim

"The dead boy appears to be the innocent victim of circumstances. He didn't even know them and there was no apparent feeling on their part that he had anything to do with the alleged assault last Thursday."

"I would not raise a racial spectre where none exists," Kelly added. "Last Thursday's thumping was the type of schoolboy skirmish we all engaged in when we were kids."

The railroad asserted in its reply that the grade crossing had previously been closed to public travel but as an emergency measure was opened for public use when Anadolmink viaduct was destroyed in hurricane Diane.

The company further declared that plans for rebuilding the viaduct were approved by the commission in 1957 and that upon completion of the structure there will be no reason for using the grade crossing.

Initial hearing in the case was held February 18 by the commission in the court house in Stroudsburg.

Snow and high winds hit Pennsylvania yesterday morning and created dangerous driving conditions in many sections.

The surprise spring onslaught dumped up to eight inches of snow in some western areas before tapering off about mid-morning.

Generally, though, the fall measured four inches or less. Central and eastern regions had one to three inches.

About an inch fell in the lower elevations of Monroe County, while more than three inches were reported in the vicinity of Blakeslee and Fern Ridge. The snow melted under a bright sun in many areas.

GOP Delays Action On Medical Care

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was reported Tuesday as opposed to any government plan as such at this time for financing health care for the aged.

It reportedly has resolved differences among some Republican leaders by declining that private voluntary health insurance programs are adequate for the time being.

This was reported privately by congressional sources after the weekly meeting of GOP congressional leaders at the White House.

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), told a news conference that the Eisenhower administration is not ready to offer any alternative for a Democratic plan for medical care for the aged.

He added that Secretary of

Invite Arrest To Protest Killings

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Thousands of Negroes were expected to refuse to go to their jobs Wednesday in the aftermath of two days of rioting against South Africa's white supremacy laws.

Hundreds of nonwhites made plain they were ready to march into police stations and be arrested for not possessing passes they are required to carry day and night.

Worldwide criticism of the deaths of 67 Negroes killed by police bullets in the riots spurred the government to review the explosive crisis.

Higher Figures

Official reports set the number of wounded in the riots at 182. But unofficial tabulations put the figures for dead and wounded somewhat higher.

White authorities blamed African nationalist agitators for fanning what had been planned as a peaceful demonstration against the pass laws into violent disorders.

But the government said it is considering forming a commission to investigate the underlying causes of unrest among the nation's Negro population.

In Tuesday's rioting Negroes burned buildings near Cape Town, then stoned firemen who fought the flames. Police first on mobs for the second straight day.

Uneasy Truce

Thousands of police enforced an uneasy truce on the Negro quarter of Sharpeville in the coal mining district south of Johannesburg. Sharpeville was the scene of Monday's major riot where at least 50 Negroes died.

The new outbreaks centered around the black settlement of Langa, outside Cape Town, where at least six Negroes were killed Monday.

Resentful Africans hid in the bush around their villages. One police patrol near Langa was ambushed by a number of Negroes. A police sergeant opened fire and wounded one of the attackers.

The situation also set off a political uproar. Opposition parties demanded a searching investigation of the violence. The Johannesburg Star said South Africa's world standing is being undermined and demanded "an end to this drift to disaster."

Denounced By U. S.

The police violence also brought an extraordinary denunciation from Washington. The State Department said the United States "cannot help but regret the tragic loss of life resulting from the measures taken against the demonstrators in South Africa."

During the night, Negroes in Langa set fire to at least eight buildings including churches, the library, a recreation hall, a reception center, an office building and Negro settlement workshops. Street lights were smashed.

Daily Lenten Meditation

Matthew 6:14-18

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. (Luke 23:34.)

An old man lay on his deathbed. When the minister called, he brought a neighbor with whom the dying man had quarreled many years before. Said the minister, "Before you pass away, Henry, I think you should forgive your neighbor."

"I'll forgive him now," the dying man replied, "but if I get well again, I won't forget."

The Lord Jesus does not offer us halfway forgiveness like this. Nor will He accept it if we offer it to others. To forgive seven times is not enough. He told Peter, "If necessary, we must forgive even 'until seventy times seven.'"

Let us think of the example of Jesus when we seek God's forgiveness this Lenten season. While dying on the cross, He prayed for those who taunted and crucified Him, saying "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Let us pray for a like spirit of forgiveness.

Prayer: Help us, dear heavenly Father, to forget a wrong as we forgive. May there be no room in our hearts for the bitterness of a grudge. In the name of Jesus, whose forgiving heart encompasses the whole sinful world. Amen.

Thought For The Day — When I forgive sincerely, I am able to forget.

Herter Says Summit Talks Are Gamble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter conceded Tuesday the summit meeting is a gamble and said he is not optimistic it will yield much progress toward settling East-West disputes.

But in this era of pushbutton weapons "there are too many chances for miscalculation, of misunderstanding to risk taking the position that we will not sit down and talk with anybody," Herter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Discussion of the coming summit meeting overshadowed Herter's main reason for appearing — to urge approval of President Eisenhower's $4,175,000,000 foreign aid program.

Under sharp questioning by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), Herter said Eisenhower is going without a formal agenda to the May 16 meeting in Paris with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and British and French leaders.

But Eisenhower is ready to discuss the Berlin stalemate, German disarmament or other issues, Herter said.

Gore told Herter he was deeply disturbed that the United States is going to the summit "without purpose, without plan, without hope of success."

"It's a gamble," Herter acknowledged.

"You are gambling with high stakes and it seems to me in a rather reckless manner," Gore retorted.

Herter said he was "very frank to admit I'm not too optimistic that the summit will produce very great results."

New British Prince Is Named

LONDON (AP)—At last the secret is out. Queen Elizabeth's month-old baby is to be christened Prince Andrew Albert Christian Edward. And he looks the image of his mother.

He will be known officially as his Royal Highness Prince Andrew. Unofficially the Buckingham Palace staff already are calling him Andy.

The palace announced the names Tuesday just as first pictures of the baby prince were flashed around the world for Wednesday morning newspapers.

The pictures were taken a week ago by Cecil Beaton, the artist-photographer. Not once during the long camera session did the baby cry.

Four names is the usual ration nowadays for British royalty. And the infant prince's four are an interesting collection.

The Queen clearly chose Andrew as a tribute to her husband, Prince Philip, whose father was the late Prince Andrew of Greece.

The choice of Christian emphasizes the British royal family's close links with Danish royalty. Christian IX of Denmark was an ancestor of both royal parents.

State Accepts Petition Of Sandercock

THE NOMINATING petition of Russell Sandercock, East Bangor, has been accepted by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Elections and Commissions, Director Albert Eberman announced yesterday.

The acceptance of the petition will allow Sandercock's name to appear on November ballots as an independent candidate for state representative in Northampton County's Second District.

Last week the state turned down the petition for legal reasons.

Good Morning!

May Be The End

House Adopts Referee Section

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House adopted the administration's voting referee section of the civil rights bill Tuesday and moved toward early passage of the whole measure.

The vote, 199-104, could mark the beginning of the end of the long congressional battle over civil rights which began in earnest more than a month ago.

However, the House adjourned at 4:31 p.m. without getting to a final vote on the bill. It may come Wednesday.

The voting section is the key one in the bill, most members agree.

Provides Referees

It would provide for federal agents, called referees, to be appointed by federal judges to oversee registration, voting and vote counting in areas where systematic discrimination against Negroes is found. It would apply to state and local elections as well as federal.

The administration asked for the referee plan, and its backers contended it was necessary to permit all qualified citizens to vote. They said it had been established that in some Southern areas Negroes had been clearly prevented from voting.

Opponents, most of them Southerners, argued that the proposal would mean unconstitutional federal interference with local affairs. They charged it was pushed primarily to attract political support from Negroes.

Similar legislation is pending in the Senate, which has appeared to be awaiting House action before pressing for final passage. The Senate might adopt the House bill so as to bypass its Judiciary Committee which has not cleared civil rights legislation in this Congress.

Tuesday's House vote was on a teller count, which does not show how individuals voted. A technical confirming vote was 192-112.

The section as approved is based on a single finding of a pattern of discrimination under which all thereby discriminated against could apply for protection of a referee.

The referee plan was presented by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers as a substitute for last year's proposal by the Civil Rights Commission that federal registrars handle the job of helping Negroes vote.

Wind Gap Police Chief's Dismissal Upheld By State Supreme Court Yesterday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court on Tuesday upheld the dismissal of Wilford L. Templeton as police chief of Wind Gap Borough, Northampton County.

Justices Herbert B. Cohen and Michael A. Musmanno dissented with Justice Musmanno filing a dissenting opinion.

In a majority opinion, written by Justice Michael J. Eagen, the high court agreed with Northampton County Common Pleas Court that Templeton's dismissal was legal because the borough never had an ordinance establishing the office of police chief.

The borough council fired Templeton on May 10, 1958, after the burgess charged him with neglect of duty, inefficiency, disobedience and misconduct. Templeton denied the charges at a public hearing.

In an appeal to the lower court, Templeton's counsel pointed out that state law says a borough "may" appoint a chief by ordinance and that the word "may" means policemen can be appointed legally without an ordinance.

The lower court, however, ruled against Templeton without making any finding on the charges against him.

In his dissent, Justice Musmanno stated:

"Although the council did not officially enact an ordinance authorizing employment of Templeton, it obviously knew of the appointment, ratified it, and never at any time questioned its reality, authenticity and legality."

Warned To Shun Political Work

HARRISBURG (AP)—Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith said Tuesday he has advised his department's Civil Service employees to give up political activity or be dismissed.

State Demos Role Potent -- Lawrence

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence said Tuesday Pennsylvania's delegation to the Democratic convention could be a potent factor in picking the party's presidential nominee if the bulk of the delegation sticks together.

"It would be potent if we have a big block (of votes) going for one fellow," Lawrence told his weekly news conference.

However, he again refused to predict what the 81-vote delegation might do.

"No doubt, there are people on there that might vote for any one of the candidates," the governor said.

Lawrence played down his own influence on the delegation and on the convention. It is greatly exaggerated, he said, in referring to a statement made by Sen. John F. Kennedy in Pittsburgh last week.

Kennedy was quoted as saying Lawrence's decision would be of extreme importance to the senator's chances to win the Democratic nomination.

Salvation Report Dinner Tomorrow

SPEAKER for the Third Annual Report Meeting of the East Stroudsburg unit of the Salvation Army will be Capt. Andrew S. Miller, Divisional Young People's Secretary in the district of southwest Ohio and northern Kentucky.

Capt. Miller is a fourth generation Salvation Army officer, and prior to his appointment to his present post, served in Warren, Dover and Akron, Ohio.

Two Honors

Two honors were bestowed upon Capt. Miller while in Akron. He was chosen by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as man-of-the-year in 1952, and on the invitation of Congressman William H. Ayres was the second Salvation Army officer in history to open a session of Congress in prayer.

The program scheduled for the Penn-Stroud Hotel tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. will be directed by Judge Fred W. Davis, presiding chairman of the board.

Following the invocation by Maj. William Harvey dinner will be served, and Judge Davis will present remarks about the work of the local Salvation Army unit.

The Citadel Band will present a selection, and the introduction of guests will follow.

A selection will then be presented by the Youth Choir and Senior Songsters of the East Stroudsburg Citadel.

Life Membership
Judge Davis will then be presented with a Certificate of Life Membership by Lt. Col. William E. Bearchell, divisional commander.

Capt. Charles Drummond, commander of the local Citadel, will give the service report, and Capt. Miller will be introduced by Lt. Col. Bearchell.

Capt. Andrew S. Miller

Clifford Cramer, vice chairman of the advisory board, will give the courtesy speech, to be followed by benediction by Maj. Harvey.

Borough Truck In Accident

AN ACCIDENT involving a Stroudsburg borough truck and a car yesterday at 6:50 a.m. was reported by Stroudsburg Police.

Police said the driver of the borough truck was Donald Smith, 44, of Stroudsburg, and the driver of the auto was Robert Arbochus, 22, East Stroudsburg RD 2.

Smith told police he had pulled out from a gas station at the Corner of Second and McConnell Sts. and stopped for a stop sign then started to move across McConnell St. when the Arbochus car struck the truck.

Coming Off Bridge

Arbochus told police he was moving west on McConnell after coming off the bridge when his car skidded into the truck.

There were no injuries, police said, and total damage was estimated at about $150.

H. Snyder Dies After Long Illness

HOWARD "Pappy" Snyder, 89, of 411 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, died at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Monroe County General Hospital following an illness of three months.

Born in Jackson Township, he was the son of the late John and Susan Fenner Snyder, and was a resident of the county his lifetime.

Former Railroader

A former railroader, he retired 25 years ago.

He was a member of the Junior Mechanics, of Stroudsburg, and Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

He is survived by two sons, Raymond Snyder of East Stroudsburg, and William Snyder of Phillipsburg, N.J., and three daughters, Mrs. Mamie Schallhamer of Allentown, and Mrs. Ann Schaller and Mrs. Evelyn Slutter, both of East Stroudsburg; 19 grandchildren, 44 great grandchildren and four great-great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from Grace Lutheran Church with Rev. William F. Winder officiating.

Interment will be in Prospect Cemetery.

Friends and relatives may call at the Lanterman Funeral Home Thursday after 7 p.m.

CAS Discusses Tentative County Pact Provisions

TENTATIVE provisions of the contract being drawn up between the Children's Aid Society of Monroe County and the County Commissioners were discussed in general terms at the meeting of the CAS directors yesterday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The contract, nearing completion, will be presented to the board for approval within the board near future, Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, president announced.

Mrs. Donald Gilpin, chairman of the personnel committee, seeking a new executive secretary reported on responses to an advertisement in professional journals and on correspondence now in progress.

56 In Care

Mrs. Ruth Gearhart, a member of the staff, who has been in charge since the resignation of A. J. Molitor as executive secretary took effect on March 1, reported 56 children in care with 41 of them in 28 active foster homes.

In addition to her regular case work duties, Mrs. Gearhart has been reviewing foster home applications of families deterred previously from taking children by low board rates. The proposed increase in board rates by the County Commissioners will remove one major hurdle, she felt.

The second hurdle is the fact that most families want preschool children while the major need is for home for teenage boys and girls. These are not delinquent children, Mrs. Gearhart stressed, but young people in need of a stable home and love.

Demand Care

Mrs. Gearhart also reported a continuing demand for protective care, suspended by the board during the emergency. In December 37 families were receiving protective care, increasing the total number of children served to 100.

A tribute to the loyalty of Mrs. Gearhart and her service beyond the call of duty was paid to her by the board.

The present financial position of the agency was reviewed and the budget to be submitted to the Community Chest was approved.

Mrs. Jack Harris and Mrs. Thomas Knepp were appointed as a nominating committee.

4 School Districts Share In Special Education Aid

Record Harrisburg Bureau

HARRISBURG—Four Monroe County school district spent a total of $53,697.17 for special teaching equipment and instructional material for the school years 1958-60 under terms of the National Defense Education Act, it was revealed yesterday in a check by this newspaper of the records of the State Department of Public Instruction.

School districts making expenditures under the special education program will be reimbursed from federal funds through the department for half the sum spent. The federal law provides that the department must approve all purchases in connection with the program.

Federal Funds

Federal funds are made available for the promotion of studies through four different education categories — mathematics and sciences, modern foreign languages, audio-visual and reference reading.

Expenditures by Monroe County school districts were made in the "first round" for which federal funds were available, which included the current school year.

All schools are eligible to participate in the "second round" of available funds in which expenditures will be for the 1960-61 school year.

Districts Participating

Following is a list of Monroe County school districts participating in the special education program and the amounts of their expenditures by categories: Mathematics and sciences — Stroud Union, $4,253.55; East Stroudsburg Area Joint, $3,708.66; Pocono Mountain Joint, $6,381.15.

Modern Foreign Languages — Stroud Union, $7,436; East Stroudsburg Area Joint, $17,527.

The coast of North America was discovered by John Cabot, for the British, in 1497.

Two Injured In Collision

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—An automobile and truck collided on Route 15, six miles south of here yesterday injuring two Marines en route from their homes to Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Douglas Tracy, Homer, N.Y., and Norman Gross, Buffalo, N. Y., both 19, were reported in satisfactory condition at Williamsport Hospital.

Tracy, the driver of the auto, suffered fractures of the left arm and left leg and injuries to his left hand. He was pinned in the wreckage until South Williamsport firemen freed him 15 minutes after the collision. Gross had possible chest and other injuries.

Donald T. Shires, Milton R. D. 1, the truck driver, was unhurt.

SLEEK & SOLID

Sleek describes what meets the eye. Solid covers the hidden virtues. For sure, you want the beauty. For sure, you want the brawn. Add the Fury V-8 power plant and you get the best of all in the sleek, Solid 1960 Plymouth.

Sleek means several things about the 1960 Plymouth. The neat, trim lines. The styling that says "no wasted metal, no wasted motion." The sure way this car daggars through the wind.

Solid fits, too. It means the strength and durability built into Plymouth's one-piece welded Unibody. It means the steady stance of Torsion-Aire Ride. It means the surging V-8 power up front.

This just might be your car. Best way to find out is to see your Plymouth dealer. This week's a good time. He'll supply the Solid Plymouth for your once-over. You can supply the rest of the words.

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

Ex-Eastburg Woman's Son Is Honored

JOHN FISHER, formerly of East Stroudsburg, will sing with the Milton Hershey Glee Club when the touring organization appears by special invitation at the opening session of the National White House Conference on Children and Youth in Washington, D. C., on March 27. He is the son of Mrs. Marguerite Edmondson, formerly of East Stroudsburg, and now of Hershey.

The 40 members of the Glee Club are selected from a list of about 150 applicants, and are chosen on a basis of scholarship, musicianship, and personal qualifications. Because of the honor, as well as the valuable training and experience, membership is one of the most coveted distinctions at Milton Hershey School.

To Sing In Church

While in Washington, the young men will sing at the New York Ave. Presbyterian Church ("church of the presidents") and pastorate of the late Peter Marshall, will tour the FBI at the invitation of J. Edgar Hoover and will appear in a special noon-time stage show for the employees of the Atomic Energy Commission, after which they will be guests of the AEC for lunch and a special program and tour.

The Glee Club has appeared in recent weeks at a number of Central Pennsylvania regional youth conferences held in preparation for the National event.

Candy Store In S-Burg Burglarized

THE BOSTON Candy Store, at 304 Main St., Stroudsburg, was burglarized sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning, police reported yesterday.

The burglary was reported by George Biss, owner of the store. Police said the thieves gained entrance by slashing a screen door in the rear of the building, then breaking a small window and reaching through to open the door.

$46 In Change
Once inside the building, police said the thieves ransacked the cupboards in back of the fountain and stole $46 in silver and $7 in stamps.

The burglary is under investigation by Stroudsburg Police.

Easter Seal Drive Will Open Today

AN EXPLANATION of the annual Easter Seal Appeal which opens today in Monroe County was given by Perley M. Webster Jr., chairman during the work session last night when Easter seals were prepared for mailing.

He called it a once-a-year, voluntary, public response to a request for funds to support the work of the Monroe County Crippled Children and Adults Assn.

To many crippled children who received needed Easter Seal services, the appeal is their assurance that they will continue, he said.

Direct Care
"Direct care, treatment, and braces for the crippled, are expensive," Webster said. "They are necessary though if those less fortunate are to be helped."

The 1960 appeal runs until Easter Sunday, April 17.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Helen Webb, Mrs. Victor Koch, Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. Robert James, Mrs. Forrest Graves and Mrs. Jeannette Batory.

Tuberculosis Society Elects Aides

MONROE County Tuberculosis Society elected Elwood Hintze president at a meeting last night in the organization offices, Stroudsburg.

Other officers named were: Mrs. Jay Urice, vice president, Dr. Robert Brown, secretary, and Leon Koster, treasurer.

Five directors were reelected to the board, including Mrs. Nelson Beers, Dr. Robert Brown, Dr. Paul Shiffer, Arthur Slee, and M. F. Weiss.

New directors selected were: Ray Price, Russell Knerr and Mrs. Robert Clark. They will succeed Arthur E. Ifft, Dr. H. S. Pond and Arthur Pfeiffer.

Secretary's Report

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the society, reported 78 tuberculosis tests in two East Stroudsburg first grade schools and 122 in Stroudsburg schools. Results showed no positive reaction in East Stroudsburg and four positive results in Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Fleming announced that the Chest X-Ray Survey for industry and the public will be held March 28 through April 1.

The executive secretary reported on the Casefinding Committee Conference in Harrisburg Tuesday and the state sessions of officials in Reading last Jan. 27 and 28.

Two Events Head Science Fair Opening

TWO events will highlight the opening day of the second annual Monroe County Science Fair tomorrow at the East Stroudsburg Armory.

At 4 p.m., the exhibit will be opened officially to public inspection at a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

The second big event is scheduled for 8 p.m. when a generous number of prizes are awarded to the high school students who have entered winning exhibits.

Participating in the opening ceremony will be representatives of the three bodies which sponsor the annual event. They are the science teachers of the county, members of the Industrial Management Club, and The Daily Record.

Cash, Ribbon Awards

Cash awards totaling $240 and ribbons will be presented to 24 students as first, second and third prizes at tomorrow night's program. Those receiving honorable mention in each of the eight divisions will be awarded special certificates, as will all students entering exhibits.

In addition, The Daily Record will present gold keys to the eight first-place winners. Col. Lester Kale, commanding officer of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot, will preside at the award of a special plaque to the student entering the electronics exhibit judged most outstanding.

The judging is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. today. All entries must be in place by 6 p.m. Tables on which the exhibits will be displayed were put in place last night by the Industrial Management Club, assisted by Justin Feltham, registration chairman, and George A. Leagan, president. The tables were loaned to the fair committee by churches, veterans' groups, lodges and individuals.

187 Exhibits
A total of 187 exhibits, a third more than last year, are entered in the fair. Students from five of the county's eight high schools are represented. Each is allowed only one entry.

The public is invited to inspect the various exhibits Thursday from 4 to 9 p.m. and Friday from 1 to 10 p.m. There is no admission charge.

False Economy

If the East Stroudsburg Borough Council is genuinely concerned with economy, as they so deeply professed in their campaign pledges, then they have a most peculiar way of showing it.

In the latter three months of last year three candidates, since elected, attended meetings held by the East Stroudsburg Taxpayers Assn. with the avowed purpose of stopping the construction of the sewer project.

In their only chance at the first meeting held at the beginning of the year, not a word was said against the sewer project — only some words about the solicitor "serving two masters," whatever that meant.

Next on their agenda was the move to increase their own salaries, along with deserving public servants employed by the borough. The councilmen gave themselves a 100 percent increase to $50 per month, adding a total of $1,800 per year to the borough budget.

Now, two of the councilmen have stated they wish to do away with the school crossing guards in the borough, of which there are three.

Two of the guards are stationed on

N. Courtland St. and one at the bridge on Ridgeway St.—all points being extremely dangerous to homeward-bound school children.

Total cost of the crossing guards last year was less than $4,000.

Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools, said: "It would be a very serious mistake to remove the guards in light of traffic conditions at all three points."

"Young children, coming home from school, fail to look before crossing streets, and one injury or death, resulting from the removal of the guards, would not be made up for by the amount of money saved through the removal of the guards."

Secor also said there is not one community in this area, of any size, which does not have crossing guards.

Asked about the possibility of replacing the guards with regular policemen, Chief of Police Travis Seese said he did not have sufficient patrolmen to make such replacements.

Economy may work in peculiar ways, but never so strangely as in the minds of the East Stroudsburg Borough Council.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

'East-West' A Misnomer

Words influence ideas and actions. The incorrect use of words produces incorrect ideas. It used to be that Soviet Russia was called Soviet Russia; that the satellites were called satellites; that the complex of Communist countries was referred to as Communist countries.

All of a sudden, the Communist nations are called East; the free nations are called West. For the Soviet complex, one might use the term, the Soviet Universal State, but that has not taken with the general public which has an insufficient grasp of history to recognize what it means.

It is a good term because it is what Marx-Leninism seeks to establish: a single state based on one ideal of life and utilizing one technique of government and one control of the means of production and distribution.

The use of "East-West" is strictly fraudulent because it covers up a multitude of facts. For instance, are Greece, Turkey, Israel, Iran, West? Geographically, they are East but not of what? If we say that the West is representative of the NATO powers, is Nationalist China East?

Where is the line of demarcation? Is Cuba East or West? Is India, East, West, or nowhere? In the struggle for the control of men, there is no geographical line. The word, East, surely fits West Berlin, but one is anti-Marxist and the other is Marxist.

The present struggle for survival is not geographical. It is essentially a struggle over ideas, over ways of life, over philosophies of existence. The struggle transcends geography, as President Eisenhower discovered in Uruguay, if nowhere else.

The terms, "East-West" are propagandistically employed in the United States and elsewhere among our allies for the purpose of avoiding the constant use of the term Communist or Marxist.

It is amazing how skillful the Russians have been in this. This fall, Of these 25 seats to be filled, 16 are currently held by Republican members.

Generally speaking these 16 Republican seats are in what might be termed nominally Republican areas. Therefore chances of Republicans holding their own are viewed as fairly good.

However there are some soft spots within this GOP framework — areas which cannot be clearly and firmly defined as conclusively within Republican grasp.

These are the spots the Democratic smart boys are quietly but feverishly probing. It is within these borderline senatorial districts that campaign efforts this fall are destined to be concentrated by Administration forces.

Democratic Senate seats up for filling this year on the whole are considered to be in rather decent shape. There is not too much concern on the part of Democratic strategists in this direction.

Democrats however must snap up at least four Republican seats in the Senate to hold a ruling hand over that chamber when the Legislature meets next January in regular session — to work over the second half of the Democratic Lawrence Administration's four-year tenure in office.

In the 210-seat House of Representatives where all seats are up for filling this fall, a number of top Democrats concede that Democratic control there stands a chance of slipping into Republican hands.

Amazingly perhaps, this does not concern Democratic strategists too much. Reason for this lies in the fact the 1961 session is destined to again rumble through a heavy fiscal schedule.

Tax measures must originate in the House of Representatives — and with a Republican-controlled House the fiscal onus is somewhat obvious.

Democrats are shooting for the 1962 gubernatorial election — not 1961. Senate control by Democrats next year would give them the same road-blocking power enjoyed by Republicans in the 1953, 1957, 1959 and the current 1960 sessions.

The Senate fight this year may hold the key to 1962.

venting self-serving words and phrases which become current in countries where they serve Russia's purposes.

The "Spirit of Camp David," a new device of confusion, apparently requires the avoidance of dirty words. But what is the "Spirit of Camp David"? It applies to a private conversation between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at a Presidential retreat called Camp David.

What they said to each other is a secret. Therefore we have no idea as to what the spirit is. Perhaps it is a kind of political ecstacy that floats about, catching Strontium 90 until we are all suffocated by it. The phrase was not first employed in the United States.

Although we do not know what the "Spirit of Camp David" is or means, we do observe that it has certain characteristics. It ushered in a gossamer quarrel with Soviet Russia; created an atmosphere favorable to the Summit Conference.

Khrushchev seems to take kindly to this atmosphere personally, but Mikoyan came to Cuba to stimulate antagonism to the United States in Cuba, 90 miles off the coast of Florida; the Berlin question was raised to the state of a brink; the Arab-Israel crisis was elevated from a flicker to a flame; the Communists in South America gave President Eisenhower an unpleasant reception wherever they could.

In a word, the deed did not quite follow the spirit.

The "Spirit of Camp David" is not altogether a smooth and kindly poltergeist laboring for the peace of the world. It looks more like one side has fallen for gentle talk while the other side does the same kind of business at the same stand — only a new sign-board has been put up.

Instead of the misnomer, "East-West," designed to mislead, let us use the simple terms, Soviet, Communist, Marxist for the euphemism, some now call East, and for West, let us use the synthetic term, "Free World."

This term is sufficiently descriptive although it is a misnomer, but it is our misnomer and we know what we mean.

That is, we know that we mean those countries which are allied or associated with us and most of which have some form of constitutional government and pursue some kind of a capitalist or mixed economy.

It makes sense to be precise about language. It makes sense to strike down propagandistic terms designed to confuse our people.

"The Spirit of Camp David" — indeed! I wonder if anyone anywhere could write a philosophical document explaining it.

Remember John Eaton? Well to refresh your memory here's the lad who turned all types of music into everyone's listening pleasure.

Whether it be a piano solo or his blending with a combo, the former East Stroudsburg High was tops at his trade not only here but across the then Forty Eight.

John, a graduate of Princeton University, where he went on to even greater musical heights, is the topic of conversation in Time Magazine this week.

Listed under the Education department, Time notes Rome has transformed Princeton-bred musician John Eaton 24, who in his younger days harmonized the U. S. with a jazz storm.

Eaton has set John Donne's sonnets to music, launched a three-hour opera based on Sophocles' Trachiniae and Seneca's Hercules Oetaeus.

Eaton is quoted as saying, "I hated this oriental city the first month. But an electric city has made the inner voices clearer. I've narrowed down to composing, and found myself."

As the first article pointed out, he is clearly "internationalist" for foreign affairs — a position which makes the probable Republican Presidential nominee relatively invulnerable in that field against the opposing Democrats.

But a special report on Nixon's detailed stands and voting record prepared by Congressional Quarterly displays a Nixon record on the "pocket-book" issues — economic policy, taxes, civil benefits, etc. — which often clashes resoundingly with the opposition.

This is what Nixon himself said about his economic philosophy in 1958: "... It has always been what I would call a conservative philosophy, conservative certainly on fiscal matters, conservative in the sense that I believe that, generally speaking, private enterprise can do a more effective job than government enterprises in any particular field."

Reds Hope To Stop U.S. A-Tests

By J. M. Roberts (AP News Analyst)

After a year and a half of equivocation, the Soviet Union has now brought the Geneva A-test ban negotiations down close to bed-rock and the Western Allies hardly know what to think of it.

Long ago the U.S.S.R. called it insincerity and delay when the West proposed a joint scientific study of underground testing to see if there is a way to police a ban in that field.

Long ago they said it must be all or nothing. Then President Eisenhower proposed a ban on all explosions in the atmosphere, on the ground and in the oceans, by passing the underground issue.

The U.S.S.R. has accepted, with the proviso that there also be a moratorium of several years on the underground tests pending the studies.

The principle is much the same as their proposal, which the Allies accepted, for a moratorium on all nuclear testing pending the current negotiations, and the Allies are going to have a hard time finding valid objections.

The original moratorium has expired. It is still being observed, with reservations by the United States, which has announced plans for an underground explosion to test peaceful applications of the power generated.

The United States also needs to test some developments in what is called the "small" weapons field, and would like to pursue experiments with a bomb freer from fallout dangers.

It is in the fields of peaceful uses, small weapons and very large weapons where the United States is believed to be more advanced than the Soviet Union, which is presumed to have an ample stockpile of the in-between sizes. It is therefore the current U. S. testing plans which Moscow would most like to stop.

Thus there is some dismay in atomic circles in Washington that the Geneva negotiations may be coming to a head.

Reports From Congress

Nixon's Record

(Second of three articles)

By Congressional Quarterly Washington — The whole range of domestic affairs forms a battleground more pitted with controversy for Vice President Richard M. Nixon than his views on foreign policy.

As the first article pointed out, he is clearly "internationalist" for foreign affairs — a position which makes the probable Republican Presidential nominee relatively invulnerable in that field against the opposing Democrats.

But a special report on Nixon's detailed stands and voting record prepared by Congressional Quarterly displays a Nixon record on the "pocket-book" issues — economic policy, taxes, civil benefits, etc. — which often clashes resoundingly with the opposition.

This is what Nixon himself said about his economic philosophy in 1958: "... Congressional Quiz

Minimum Wage Issue

By Congressional Quarterly

Minimum wage could be one of the big issues of the 1960 Presidential campaign. This quiz tests your knowledge of the federal minimum wage law. Try for four correct answers.

Q—The federal minimum wage law is called the (a) Fair Labor Standards Act; (b) Clayton Act; (c) Wagner Act.

A—(a), It is also frequently called the Wage-Hour Act. The Clayton Act is an anti-trust law, the Wagner Act a labor-relations law guaranteeing the right to organize unions.

Q—The Fair Labor Standards Act was passed during the Administration of (a) Woodrow Wilson; (b) Herbert Hoover; (c) Franklin D. Roosevelt; (d) Dwight D. Eisenhower?

A—(c). The FLSA was passed in 1938, amended in 1949 and 1955.

Q—True or false: Federal minimum wage guarantees under the Fair Labor Standards Act cover the entire U.S. labor force of 65 million?

A—False. Self-employed persons, farm workers and other workers not engaged in interstate commerce are not covered by the federal minimum wage guarantee. Altogether, only about 23 million workers are covered.

Q—The present minimum wage law fixes a minimum of (a) 40 cents an hour; (b)

$1 an hour; (c) $2 an hour? A—(b). The 1938 law set a minimum of 25 cents, to rise to 40 cents in 1945. In 1949, the minimum was raised to 75 cents, in 1955 to $1.

Q—Which of the following men is chairman of the Senate Labor Subcommittee and is sponsoring a bill to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour: (a) John F. Kennedy; (b) Lyndon Johnson; (c) Ezra Taft Benson?

A—(a). Johnson is Senate Majority Leader; Benson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Q—Each of the following men has some connection with labor. Match three of the following with their jobs:

(1) George Meany (a) Chairman of House Education and Labor Committee

(2) Graham A. Barden (b) President of International Ladies' Garment Workers Union

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

A few gaffs that have sent TV personnel reeling: 1. A beauteous hostess was singing the praises of a strawberry pie for a gorgeously gothic commercial. A prop-man noticed at the last minute that the usual whipped-cream topping was missing, so he substituted shaving cream. The hostess took one sniff, then bit the announcer in the ankle.

3. Two announcers fluffed. One, describing a dainty beauty, proclaimed, "Her breath will take your beauty away." The second attributed a news flash to "respected White House sources."

Terence O'Flaherty describes a whale as "the last of the red hot mammals." He further asserts that the first time he met Gypsy Rose Lee, he told her, "Don't just stand there. Undo something!"

Georgia's Reaction To Filibuster

The South, in its fight against punitive civil rights legislation, still stands unbowed—in fact, thus far victorious, as a result of preliminary victories in the Senate.

That body not only rejected by a 53-42 vote, a move to shut off the Dixie filibuster, but then went on to defeat a proposal to give the attorney general broad new civil rights powers, and adopted unanimously a Southern-sponsored proposal reducing penalties proposed for interfering with court orders in "rights" cases.

The margin against imposing closure to end the debate undoubtedly staggered the Northern proponents of the proposal, and even the Southerners had not anticipated its rejection by a vote so short of the required two-thirds majority.

The Pennsylvania Story

Seeking Impossible

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Pennsylvania Democratic strategists are shooting for the seemingly impossible this year.

They want control of the now Republican-dominated State Senate. They want it so badly that in the upcoming fall election campaign a good many of their eggs are being placed in this one basket.

In this respect Democrats may accomplish the seemingly impossible. They did it handsomely on the gubernatorial front in 1954 when Democratic candidate Governor Leader was then the underdog.

Whether this political magic can be carried over into this year remains to be seen. From a birds-eye view here in the State Capital chances of success appear remote at best.

Nevertheless Republicans are worried and itching in nervous concern.

In the 50-seat Senate at the present time, some 28 Republicans hold the ruling hand — the 28 being just two over the exact number needed to pass legislation in the upper house and at the same time hold administrative control of that chamber.

This year half of the Senate membership — those from odd-numbered senatorial districts — hold seats that must be filled

General and the list today stands at 30 battles spaced over a period of five years with six being issued each year.

It takes nearly one year to pass upon any recommendation, assign an artist, draw the central figure, or figures, complete the design, pass upon it, and engrave or print the stamp. Therefore it is necessary to have the recommendations for 1961 stamps well in hand by the middle of 1960.

The Postmaster General has stated "The Postage Stamps of a Nation are the picture gallery of its glories" and what a chance to show the world that we honor leaders on both sides of the "War between the states" and that we are proud of these heroes who sacrificed self for their convictions.

If you would like to see such a series issued, write to the Post Office Department, attention Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee, Washington 25, D.C., and tell them your views.

During the Revolutionary war days, all American iron workers were exempted from military service.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Among the reasons why life in the temperate zones can never relapse into the lethargy of the tropics is that sense of expectancy with which committed wait the weather on The Day.

From Laurel Blossom festivities in the Spring, through Sunday school picnics in Summer and the World Series in the Fall, it's a gamble. Pull the panic button too soon and the sun shines on prospective patrons who can't possibly make it on the postponed date. Wait too long and you all end up a soggy mess.

The YMCA Aux. committees who had worked so hard promoting the eard party and fashion show for last night didn't really wish for a blizzard last night, but having called it off during the slippery hours of the morning it was sort of sickening to have clear roads and no impediments last night.

But speaking of temperate — it was warm enough for a Spring suit in Paris last week. Dr. Mary Hunsicker reported yesterday. She'd gone prepared with leotards and fur-lined boots and all she needed was a Spring suit for promenading the enchanted streets.

Her Spring suit and that hat with the big flower in back which made such a stir last Easter. It continued to make a stir—even in Paris—where everybody was asking from which famous modiste she had purchased it. She got a big kick out of telling them that she'd bought it in Stroudsburg, Pa.

And I got a big kick out of the fact that she and Dr. Lew had to hurry home because of the Elementary PTA Book Fair in East Stroudsburg, Pa. We may have miserable weather, but we've got some loyal people.

Re-Schedule Card Party Fashion Show

The card party and fashion show scheduled for tonight by the YMCA Aux. was canceled because of the weather.

It will be held on Tuesday, March 29, at 7:45 at the gymnasium in the YMCA.

Portland PTA To Honor Its Past Presidents

Portland — Past Presidents will be honored at the meeting of the Parent - Teachers Assn. on Thursday night at 8 in the Portland School. They were to have been guests of honor in February but the meeting was postponed because of the storm.

Guest speaker will be Lester J. Bowers, director of Elementary Education at East Stroudsburg State College. Ernest Humphreys Jr., ventriloquist will entertain and the second grade mothers will be hostesses.

Groceries Showered On Bride-To-Be

A surprise grocery shower was held for Miss Donna Woolever, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dorfinger, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jean Batchler, Miss Woolever became the bride of Fred Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Stout, on March 19 at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Those present were: Miss Connie Williams, Miss Judy Fisher, Miss Janie Loney, Miss Jeannette Marsh, Miss Nancy Hopkins, Miss Carol Woolever, Miss Reita Woolever, Mrs. Barbara Woolever, Miss Barbara Phillips and Mrs. Julia Dorfinger. Miss Mary Hall also sent a gift.

Fifth Birthday Is Celebrated

Carolyn Marie Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Morgan of 549 Oak St., Stroudsburg, who was five years old on March 18 celebrated her birthday with a party on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m.

Games were played with plenty of balloons and favors for the children. Supper was served at 5:30 followed by birthday cake and ice cream.

Children present were Nancy Cramer, Barbara Terrell, Walter Redel, Pamela Redel, Deborah Myers, Nancy Chapman and Ralph Bender.

Others present were her mother, her grandmother, Mrs. John G. Becker, and Diane Koch who helped with the games.

Old-Fashioned Virtues Still Score In Local Jobs For Local Graduates, Panel Of Employers Tells Stroud Union PTA

Old fashioned virtues: dependability, courtesy, initiative and industry, still play a large part in getting and holding a job, parents of Stroud Union High School Parent-Teachers Assn. were told by a panel of business and industrial leaders at the meeting on Monday night.

Theme of the panel was the local job opportunities for those high school students who will go directly to work after their graduation. Mrs. Merlin Ruff, who served as moderator of the panel, had some startling statistics to offer.

Reverse Statistics Within four years, the proportion of graduates at Stroud Union High School who go to work and those who take further education has been reversed, she pointed out. Of the

Expressionism On Main St. In Pocono Art Center Show

(Miss Wolbach, who today reviews the art show now being held at the Pocono Art Center, Main and Seventh Sts., Stroudsburg, until March 31, is the daughter of Robert Wolbach, noted artist, of New York City and Thomas St., Stroudsburg.)

The Pocono Art Center is to be congratulated for its intelligent contemporary awareness in the present showing of the paintings of Mildred Bogert and Ann Turri. Both artists studied at the Hazleton Art League and tend toward abstract expressionism in their painting. While the show is joyously youthful with vibrant color and I was particularly taken by Ann Turri's "Confined Deep" and Mildred Bogert's "Storm" for both created powerful recognizable mood without using definitive plastic forms. This indefiniteness of absolute subject allows creative or subjective viewing. The viewer can define the painting and take away as much as he can put in. The responsibility of the viewer to perceive the picture is heightened by the lack of titles on the works. Each picture must stand on its own merit visually without the use of literary adjunct. The paintings must therefore be more powerful to communicate on their own.

Most of Ann Turri's work was abstractly expressionistic rather than attempting realism. "Winding Trail" seemed to handle this abstraction impressively and I found it very satisfying. Her "Blue Landscape" used less symbolic forms but was powerful in portraying mood.

Mildred Bogert's work held more closely to subject matter. Be sure not to miss her works in the pre-gallery room. One there is "Mother" and another is "White Birds." "White Birds" is a truly lovely work. The birds are Phoenix-like fantasies of white on a dark background.

The two artists are well paired for their work is analogous and the group may be pleased with its selection and fine taste in presentation. Be sure you get to see the show for it is worth a flight of stairs for a flight into the world of contemporary art on Main Street.

Homemakers Make Jewelry

Bartonville — An all day meeting of the Bartonville Home Extension Class was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Schreck on Wednesday, March 16. Jewelry was made.

Mrs. Robert Bonser invited the group to meet at her home on April 20.

Those present were the instructor, Miss Margaret MacLaren; Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr.; Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Samuel Dunbar, Mrs. Daisy Al- leger, Mrs. Vernon Wallace, Mrs. Edward Vican, Mrs. Leon Mader, Mrs. Robert Bonser, Mrs. Richard Coss, Debbie Werkheiser and the hostess, Mrs. Roy Schreck.

Australian Woman Here For Hadassah Study

Mrs. Francis W. Antow, a resident of Cooma, New South Wales, Australia, will be featured as guest speaker at the Hadassah study session today at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas Breslau.

Mrs. Antow will conduct the informal question and answer periods on "Life and Times in Israel" where she spent much of her childhood and which she recently revisited.

All members of Hadassah interested in hearing Mrs. Antow are invited.

Kurt Evans Honored On Second Birthday

A birthday party was held for two-year-old Kurt Alan Evans at his home, 413 Hawthorne Terrace, Stroudsburg on Saturday.

The rooms were decorated with balloons. Individual cup cakes baked by his mother, Mrs. Darwin Evans, formed the centerpiece for the birthday table.

Present were Kurt's sister, Connie Lou, Doris Mutchler with Rosie and Maureen, Doris Foley with Ricky, Scott, Bruce and Evelyn, Tina Neipert with Sandy, Donna and Gail, Betty Phillips with Terry, and Mandy Lou Singer and Larry Heller.

Unable to attend were Curtis and Dean Werkheiser, Gary Hufsmith, Gene Klinger, Freddy Burkholder, Stevie Rhule, Charlene Cramer, Carl Bush Jr., Karen Kanyak and Tina Klinger.

Pamela Thomas One Year Old

Pamela Lynn Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Thomas, North Fifth St., celebrated her first birthday at a party on St. Patrick's Day.

Decorations and refreshments were in St. Patrick's Day green. Each guest received a terry bib made by Pam's mother as a favor.

Guests were: Mrs. Walter Wyckoff and daughter, Beth and son, Ricky; Mrs. Robert Hamill and son, Joel; Mrs. Lewis Scheller and daughters, Beth and Sally Jo; Mrs. James Broadfoot and daughter, Patti who was also celebrating her first birthday the same day, and the guest of honor Pamela and her brother David.

Pam is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell and Mrs. William Thomas of Stroudsburg.

March Birthdays Celebrated

Jonas — A family get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schaffer, Jonas, to honor all the family birthdays in March: Harold Schaffer, Donna Schaffer, Mrs. Kenneth Bennett, Mrs. Harold Altomese and William Altomese.

Also present were Ralph Baumgartner, Kresgeville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baumgartner, East Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Altomese and family, Gilbert; Mrs. Kenneth Bennett and daughter, Kresgeville; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Altomese and family, Gilbert; Mr. and Mrs. William Baumgartner Jr., Jonas, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schaffer and family.

The need for skilled workers is already marked, he said. Since most local industries are small, they have no formal training which is costly in terms of production.

In addition to technical skills, prospective employees look for the ability to get along with people, for keen observation and the ability to take on increasing responsibility, and trustworthiness.

These qualities, he felt very strongly, should be instilled by parents, the school and the church, early in life.

The opposite of those qualities are why people lose jobs, John Dougherty, of the local Employment Bureau warned.

"Few people lose their jobs because of lack of job skills," he said. "They are fired because they are careless or lazy, tardy or absent, undependable and disloyal."

The Employment Bureau last year placed 3,200 people, and the ability to get and hold a job seems to depend on interest, initiative and good appearance.

At the business meeting with Mrs. James Kilson presiding, Mrs. William Howard and Mrs. William Tarr reported that $115 had been made in the recent rummage sale.

The PTA voted to honor the new members of the National Honor Society by purchasing their honor society pins.

Elected to the nominating committees were Mrs. Walter McClelland, Mrs. Ray Dunkelberger, Mrs. William Howard.

Spring Busy For WSCS With Area Meetings

South Sterling — A busy Spring season was planned by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church here during its March business meeting at the hall at which Mrs. Norris Scott presided.

First on the list of meetings and special events was the March 23 Spring meeting of the Methodist Women's Home Guild at 1760 North Washington Street, Scranton.

A business meeting, program, conducted tour of the Home, and a Fellowship Tea highlighted the meeting which was attended by several representatives of the local WSCS.

A letter from the Home Guild of the Wyoming Conference was read during the meeting. Mrs. Harry Roof was named a "Key Woman" and will accept memberships for the guild. Regular memberships are one dollar; sustaining memberships five dollars; and life memberships one hundred dollars.

A report of the nominating committee was heard, and elections are scheduled for April 14. Nominations will be accepted from the floor at that time. World Banks are also due on April 14.

A contribution to the church window fund was voted by the membership. The group discussed the Easter morning breakfast to be served following the Sunrise Service.

A brush party was suggested, and Esther Simons was named chairman. It was also approved that the WSCS would have a rummage sale at its bazaar this Summer. Mrs. Scott was named in charge.

The Seranton District Spiritual Life Retreat to be held in Carbondale on April 1 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. was announced. Those attending were asked to bring their Bibles, and sandwiches for lunch. Beverage and dessert will be provided. There will be a program.

Also noted was the April 27 Annual Spring Meeting of the Seranton District WSCS at Asbury Methodist Church, Muncy Avenue and Delaware Street. Registration will be at 9:45 a.m., and election and installation of officers will be held during the morning session. Luncheon reservations should be made before April 23 with Mrs. Noble Johnston, 1530 Madison Avenue, Dunmore.

During the program, Mrs. Roof led devotions. Alice Skelton read "To Rededicate Ourselves in Stewardship."

Before and after the meeting, the sixteen members present completed a Flowergarden Quilt. They will begin this week on a Dresden Plate design during their weekly quilting at the hall.

Police Reserves Aux.

The Monroe County Police Reserve Aux. will meet Tuesday night, March 24 at the home of Mrs. Ann Shook, Brown St., at 7:30 p.m.

Past Councilors

Past Councilors, Daughters of America, will meet Friday night at 8 at the home of Cora Praetorius, 741 Ann St., Stroudsburg.

Not an anniversary special, but certainly VERY special at any price are the charming Hakata dolls being introduced to Wyckoff customers in our cosmopolitan gift center. These are not dolls in the sense of toys... but are exquisitely designed figurines depicting Japanese life and people of understanding and warmth.

The first of these dolls was produced in 1601 by Sohichi Masaki, a famous tile maker, who made it as a pleasant diversion while roofing the castle of his feudal lord, Nagamasa Kuroda. This first doll was much cruder than those which eventually came from his kiln... and all the secrets of his perfected art have been handed down from generation to generation, so that the dolls today are world-renowned and much cherished as works of art.

Amazing to me is the price... only 10.00 for each delightful statue. My favorite pair would be the old man with the scroll and the sculptor at work on a statue of kannon, Goddess of Mercy. Walter and Migsie Wyckoff particularly like the oyster man, busy over a big, net covered basket of oysters, one of which contains a lustrous pearl. The perfect companion for this would be "The Net Maker", showing a net maker at work. Still another shows an elderly gentleman seated at a desk, engaging in the New Year writing ceremony. Betty Bartholomew admires a duo-figured group showing a kindly faced old lady shaving her husband. A mate for this would be the old fisherman, cleaning his wares, while his wife and he chuckle together over a joke that fails to lose its humor through the centuries. Arthur Widmer approves them all... saying he'd like to own a few if only to practice painting the wonderfully expressive faces. Truly, they are lovely.

As Betty LaBarre says, "I hate to see them sold... it gives me so much pleasure just to come over and see them every once in awhile." She's right... it's like meeting friendly, nice people... the kind who, when racial prejudices and international differences are put aside, are much like people we know... salt of the earth people!

Outside Chair Adds Much To Leisure

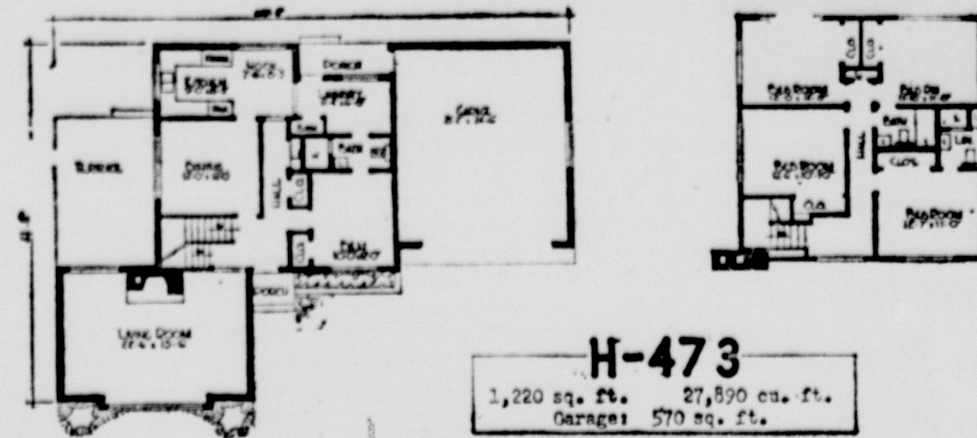

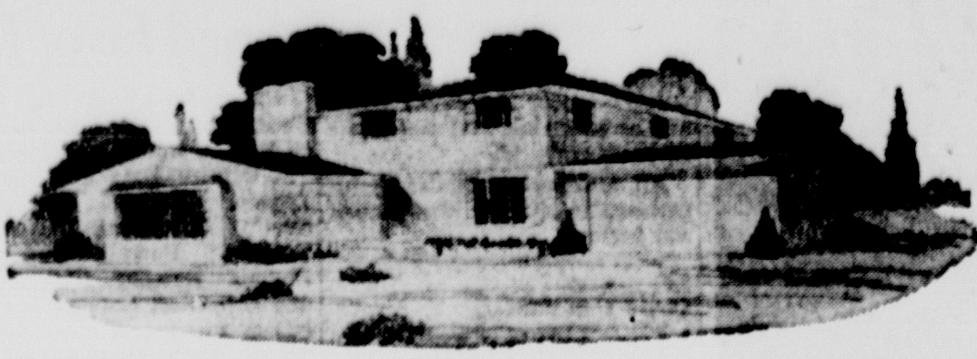

COMFORTABLE outdoor furniture adds so much to the enjoyment of leisure hours there's really no reason for not having everything you need. While complete sets are available ready-made at reasonable costs, you can still save almost one half by building them yourself.

Full size paper patterns take all the mystery out of building these handsome pieces. The chair illustrated can be built with or without arms, or with one arm on the right or left side. The free wheeling chaise permits moving 'neath sun or shade.

Patterns offered below show exact location of each part. Even bolt and screw holes are shown. Building is made easy since the pattern can be traced on plywood, then cut to exact size. Step-by-step directions tell how and where to glue and screw each part in exact position shown on pattern. The list of materials tells what to buy and where each piece of lumber is used. Step by step directions are complete and written in non-technical language.

Send 50c each cash or money order (no stamps please) for Pattern No. 322R Lawn Chair or Pattern No. 322R Lawn Chaise to The Daily Record P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N. Y. Send 35c additional for 64 page catalog illustrating over 300 other build it yourself projects. If you wish first-class mail send 25c extra.

Parade of Homes

Two-Story Luxury In This Fine House

EVERYWHERE, the story is the same: Prospective homeowners want a great deal more living space, and at a price within their means. Features like an extra bath or laundry; a full dining room; a den; first floor laundry room and a spacious living room make a home prohibitive in price, unless some of the items are omitted, in which case there is general dissatisfaction for all concerned. In order to keep up with the customer demand, builders are returning to the two story home to keep from pricing themselves out of business.

Today's selection is an unusually fine two-story home that will blend harmoniously in any area. Exterior construction is brick veneer for the first story and wood siding for upper floor. The entrance of this home leads to a center hallway, which directs traffic to any part of the house without intrusion. Front entrance also has access to second floor or basement stairs.

This beautiful home contains an impressive living room with two 15 1/2 foot wall lengths; a large bay; a sliding window wall to private terrace and a very striking fireplace of stacked Roman brick. Note the large dining room with the panoramic window wall access to the terrace.

The kitchen has a "U" shaped work area, a sunlit breakfast corner and doorway to the first floor laundry room.

Built-ins and "at-hand" storage space is abundant. The two-car attached garage contains a read door to porch, thereby providing easy access to the kitchen and laundry room. Basement has a very large recreation area. The upper floor sleeping area contains every convenience. The master bedroom has its own bath. Closets are ample and sliding doors have been used throughout for added convenience. Incidentally, the right rear bedroom has a door to full bath, which contains two doors—one to bedroom and one to the hall.

This plan conforms to general FHA, VA and Building Code requirements. Electrical layout is indicated on the blue prints.

Due to the variation in material and labor costs, the estimated construction cost is not given. However, this plan contains 1,220 sq. ft., 27,890 cu. ft., and 570 sq. ft. in the garage. Your builder or material supplier can give you the average cost per square or cubic foot in your area.

Complete Building Plans, including Detail Sheet, Material List and Specification Guide for design No. H-473 may be purchased for $9.75 for 1st set; 2 for $18.75; 3 for $26.25; or 4 for $33.75. Wall Panels Improve Room Looks

A DECORATIVE accent wall may serve two basic functions in a room. An accent wall is effective if it merely adds eye appeal to the room by contrast with the dominant decor, but it also may be used to emphasize a particular section, such as a dining nook in the kitchen.

Effective in any room of the house, accent walls are easy to plan, since paneling may be obtained in various colors and patterns. Marlite, which comes in plain colors, handsome wood-grains and distinctive marble patterns, also is made in various shapes to permit a wider latitude when planning an accent wall.

The paneling is available at lumber dealers in four-foot wide panels, 16"x8" planks and 16-inch square blocks. Each type of plastic-surfaced hardboard is easy-to-handle and can be installed by home handymen.

Woodgrained planks with random scoring make a good-looking, informal accent wall in a dining area adjacent to the kitchen, or in a family room. Another way to create an accent wall with strong vertical lines is to alternate planks of harmonizing colors to achieve a "barber pole" effect. This is particularly effective in a bedroom or powder room.

Interesting wall areas can be created by combining the planks with blocks in the same or harmonizing colors. By alternating blocks of harmonizing colors, it is easy to create a checker-board effect on an accent wall.

Dishwasher Aids Housewife In Doing Her Daily Work

THE EARLIEST man to discover the advantages of eating from a sea shell or a flat stone probably howled with joy and strutted proudly around his cave for a week.

This was all very well for the man himself, but for his female counterpart the discovery was somewhat less joyful. It meant the beginning of washing dishes, a drudgery that has plagued womankind ever since.

Today, literally thousands of years later, man has at last dishes. He has produced the 1960 automatic electric dishwasher, an appliance that makes dishes and other eating and food-preparing utensils hardly any more trouble than they were before they were invented.

Hard to believe? Here are just a few of the things electric dishwashers on the market today are designed to do:

1. Eliminate pre-rinsing by hand. Excess food is merely scraped off plates and the dishwasher does the rest.
2. Wash pots and pans at the same time as china and glassware.
3. Holds approximately a dozen place settings. This means that an electric dishwasher can handle all the dishes for a large party.

In daily use, by the average family, it can wash the entire day's dishes in one load. 4. Cleanse and sanitize far better than hand-washing. Water hotter than hands can stand kills most household germs. Most electric dishwashers today pre-rinse, wash with a powerful detergent spray, rinse, wash again, rinse twice more, then dry with warm air.

5. Portable electric dishwashers make after-meal cleanup easier by rolling up to the table for loading. This eliminates stacking and carrying of dishes.

In New Homes

All-Electric Kitchens

MORE AND more home builders across the country today are equipping houses in all price ranges with complete kitchens, a survey shows.

The reason? A fully-equipped kitchen, most builders agree, helps sell more houses.

But Ike Jacobs, president of Fox and Jacobs Construction Co., Dallas, Tex., one of the nation's leading building firms, says a builder who includes a complete kitchen in his product is offering more than just a house. He's offering a home.

"Our point of view," says Jacobs, "is that a well-planned kitchen with such work-saving electric appliances as a dishwasher and refrigerator freezer adds to a family's enjoyment of a house."

"The dishwasher alone does this by freeing the housewife from a lot of kitchen drudgery and giving her more time for herself, her family, and her friends."

The award-winning Dallas firm considers a dishwasher one of the most important "extras" Fox and Jacobs homes have to offer — so important that nine leading makes of electric dishwashers recently were put through a series of exhaustive tests to see which one did the best job.

The tests showed that the dishwashers did an excellent job. As a result, the firm will base its selection on style and ease of installation.

The Daily Investor

Suitable Investments

By William A. Doyle
Q. I own 139 shares of General Motors, 50 shares of One William Street Fund, 50 shares of Public Service of New Hampshire and $600 in U.S. savings bonds. I also have $2,000 in a savings account as a reserve for emergencies and an additional $2,000 for additional investments. I plan to buy 25 shares of Kansas City Southern, which pays $4 a year per share in dividends. Is this stock a suitable investment for me?

A. It's pretty clear that you are a careful planner—not only of your investments but also of all your financial affairs. Good for you. The only necessary financial ingredient you don't mention is insurance. But it's a safe bet that you have taken care of.

Now it seems that you are looking for a stock giving a better-than-average dividend yield. Kansas City Southern Railway common stock appears to be the kind you should be interested in. At the present market price, that $4-a-year dividend results in a yield of about 5.3 percent.

Normally, a yield that high on common stock might indicate that there is some doubt that the present dividend rate will be maintained. But Kansas City Southern's earnings have held up well. So, there doesn't seem to be too much worry about its dividend.

The fact that this stock is selling at a relatively low price just now can be traced, in part, to the market behavior of rail stocks in general. William A. Doyle

Railroad stocks simply haven't been very popular.

However, some rail stocks do have a good yield. But an investor should be mighty careful before he makes his selection.

Q. I am completely puzzled by the yields of some stocks and the fact that people will ignore some stocks that are obviously better for them. I will state a case in point. About 18 months ago I bought some Anglo-Lautaro Nitrate class A stock at $7 a share. I received $1 a share in dividends in 1959—a yield of more than 14 percent on my purchase price. Early this year I received a dividend of 70 cents a share. Even that makes the yield on my purchase price 10 percent.

Many, many other stocks are selling at prices resulting in much lower yields. I have checked up on Anglo-Lautaro Nitrate. It is a well-managed company. But the stock is now selling even below what I paid for it. May I have your comments on this?

A. It's doubtful that you are looking for "comments." More likely, you want this column to praise the stock—thereby confirming your judgment. Don't feel abused. But it does seem that you (in common with many other people) can't understand why the stocks you own haven't done better in the market.

In checking on this stock, you evidently missed a couple of things. Its dividends have been erratic. As a matter of fact, no dividends were paid in 1958, 1953 and 1951. In other years the payments were raised and lowered.

Also, it is a foreign corporation—the largest producer of nitrate and iodine in Chile. These facts naturally make investors wary. However, if the stock continues to pay good dividends (I have no way of knowing whether it will or not) you'll have proved your point.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

2nd Army Band Vacancies Available For Musicians

Sgt. DONALD K. Smith, local army recruiter, announced yesterday that between now and July 1960 vacancies will exist in the Second U. S. Army Band located at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Musicians playing the following instruments are especially needed: French horn, baritone horn, flute, tenor saxophone, baritone saxophone, trombone, bass clarinet, B flat clarinet and the tuba.

Eligible To Enlist

Sgt. Smith stated that anyone interested should contact him at the Stroudsburg Post Office and he will make the necessary arrangements for an audition. If the applicant passes this test he is then eligible to enlist for band school and will be sent to the Army element of the U. S. Naval School of Music at Washington, D. C. The auditorium does not obligate the applicant in any way.

Store Owners Fined

WILKES-BARRE (AP)—The three owners of a Luzerne County discount store in Plains Township pleaded guilty yesterday to selling prohibited merchandise on Sunday. They paid fines of $100 plus costs and promised to obey the State Blue Laws.

Nationally Advertised Products In Record Display

Philip G. Daniels
General Advertising Manager
Ottaway Newspapers Inc.

A display of nationally advertised products which was set up in the lobby of The Daily Record building several months ago continues to attract the attention of the hundreds of persons who visit the business office each week.

Neatly arranged on tables on both sides of the main entrance, the products are easily identified as brand-name merchandise found in leading business places throughout the Pocono region.

The display covers many of the products advertised nationally in The Daily Record. Originally, it was planned to include all the products advertised nationally in the paper, but space limitations restricted the number to those pictured on this page.

The national representative for The Daily Record is Ottaway Newspapers Inc., 911 E. Main St., Endicott, N.Y. Philip G. Daniels is general advertising manager, and it was through his initiative that the lobby display was arranged.

Besides Manager Daniels and Harriet French in the Endicott office, the Ottaway Newspapers organization has Homer L. Somers, who works out of Danbury, Conn., and Paul T. Brewer, with headquarters in Syracuse, N.Y., contacting national advertising accounts for The Daily Record.

Lowell H. Cross, advertising director of The Daily Record, is the local contact for national advertising.

Represented at present in the lobby display are the following nationally advertised products:

Lehigh Valley Dairy Products, Breyer Ice Cream, Monroe County Co-op Dairy Products, Schaible's Sunbeam Bread, Wonder Bread, Potato Plus;

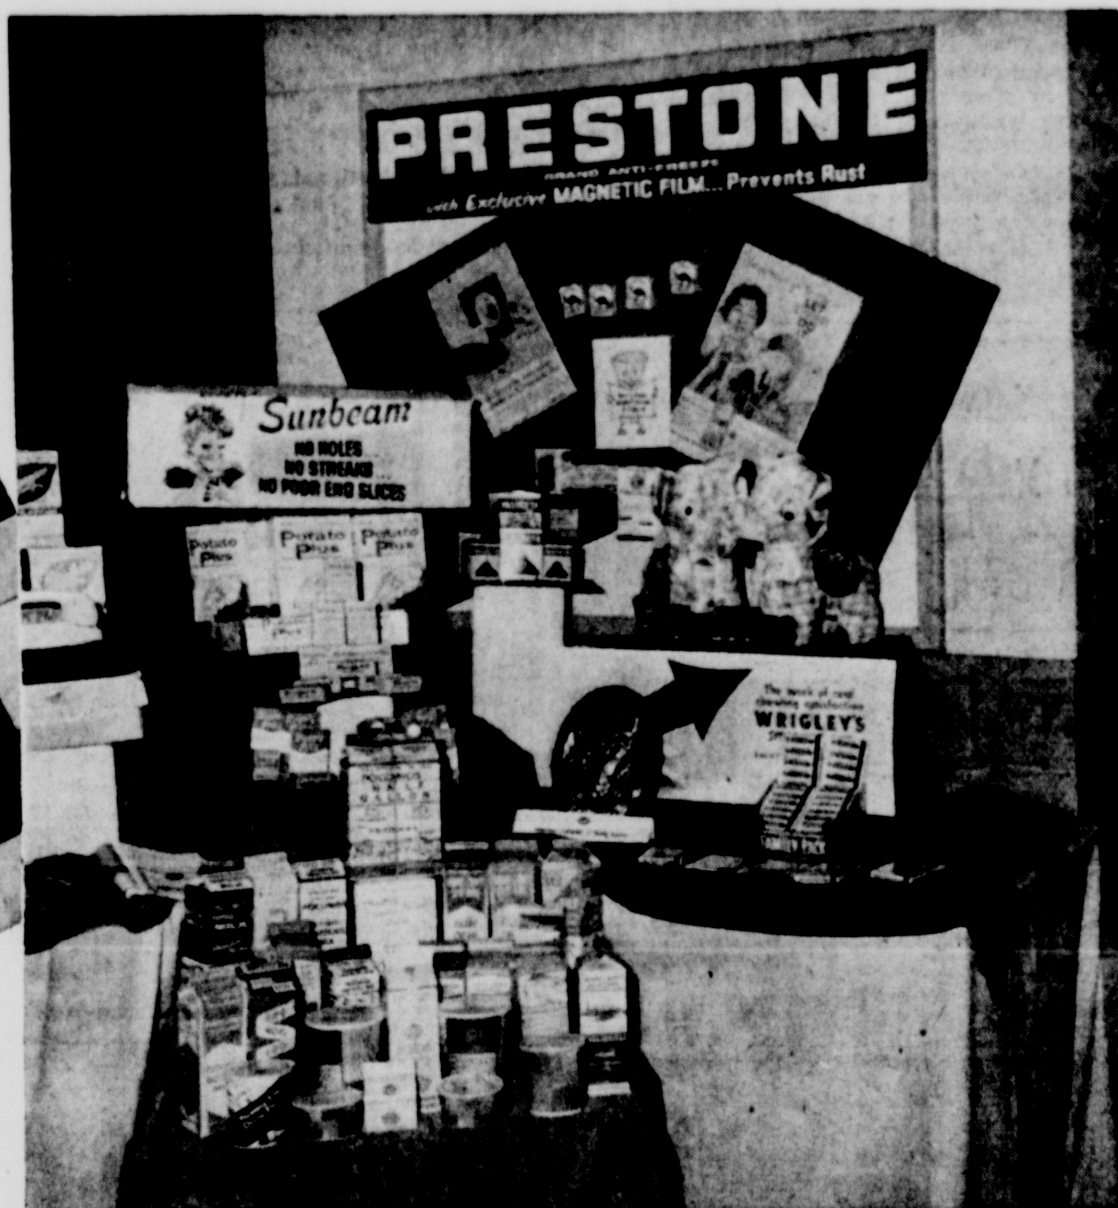

Friskies Dog Food, Thrivo Dog Food, Swan Pink Liquid Soap, Comet Cleanser, Joy, Ivory Soap, Strypeeze Paint Remover, Kwikse Brush Cleaner;

Camel Cigarettes, Wrigley's Chewing Gum, the Princess Telephone, Top Value Stamps, Oregon Saw Chains, Flex-O-Glass, Prestone, Insurance Company of North America;

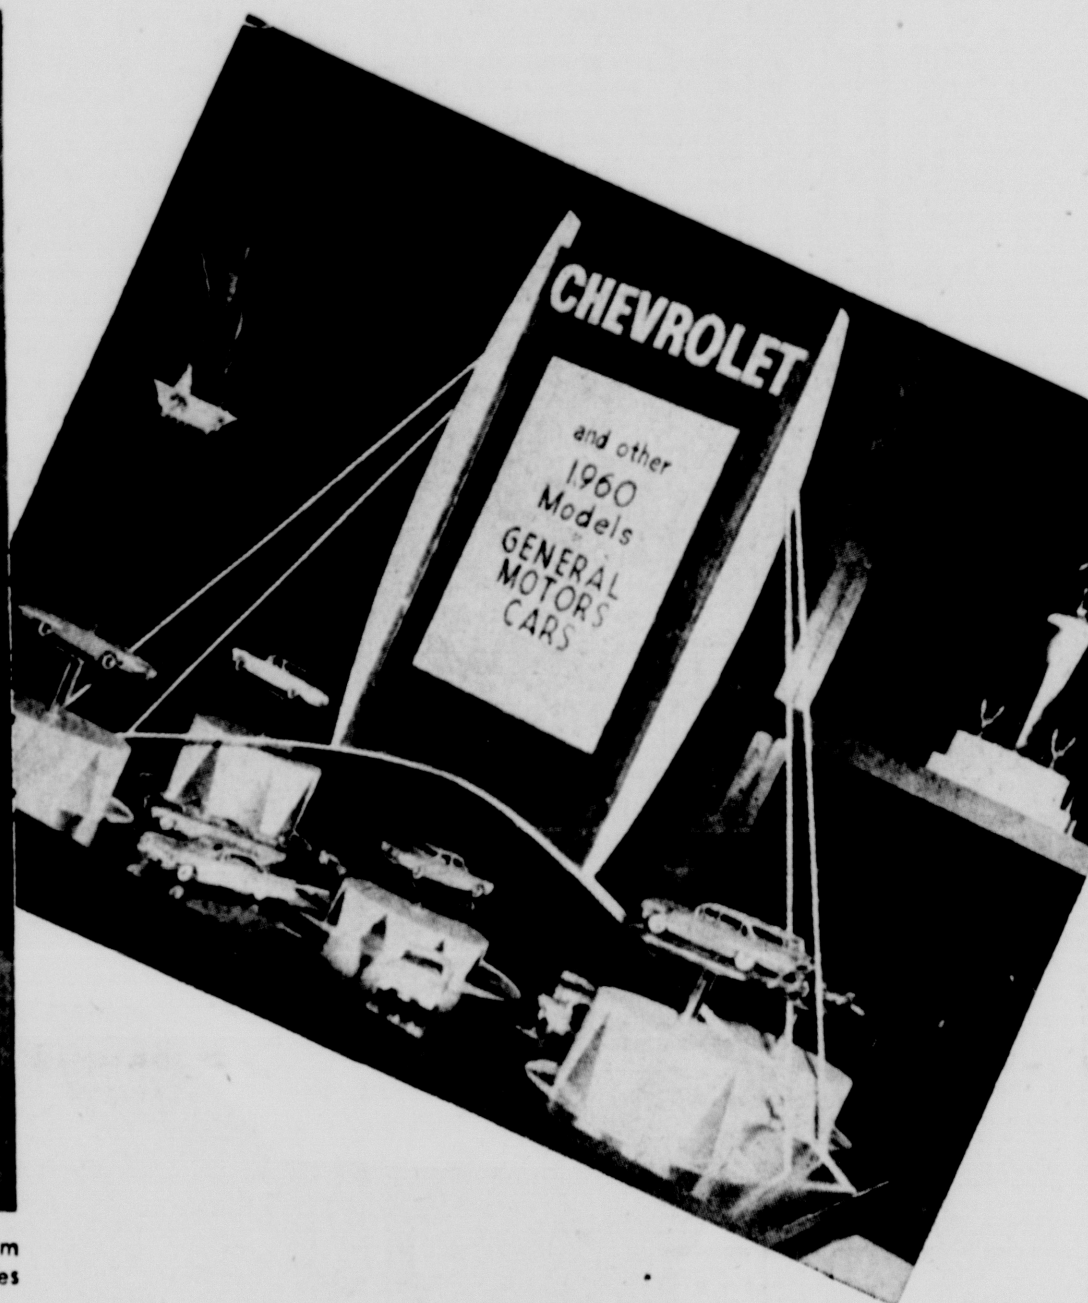

T-4-L Foot Powder and Solution, Itch-Me-Not, Bell-Ans, Doan's Pills and Fasteeth.

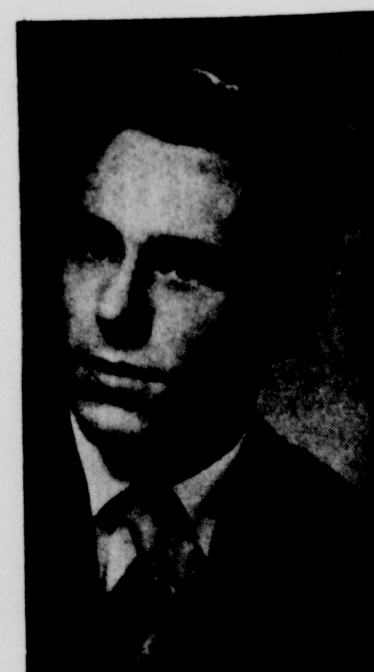

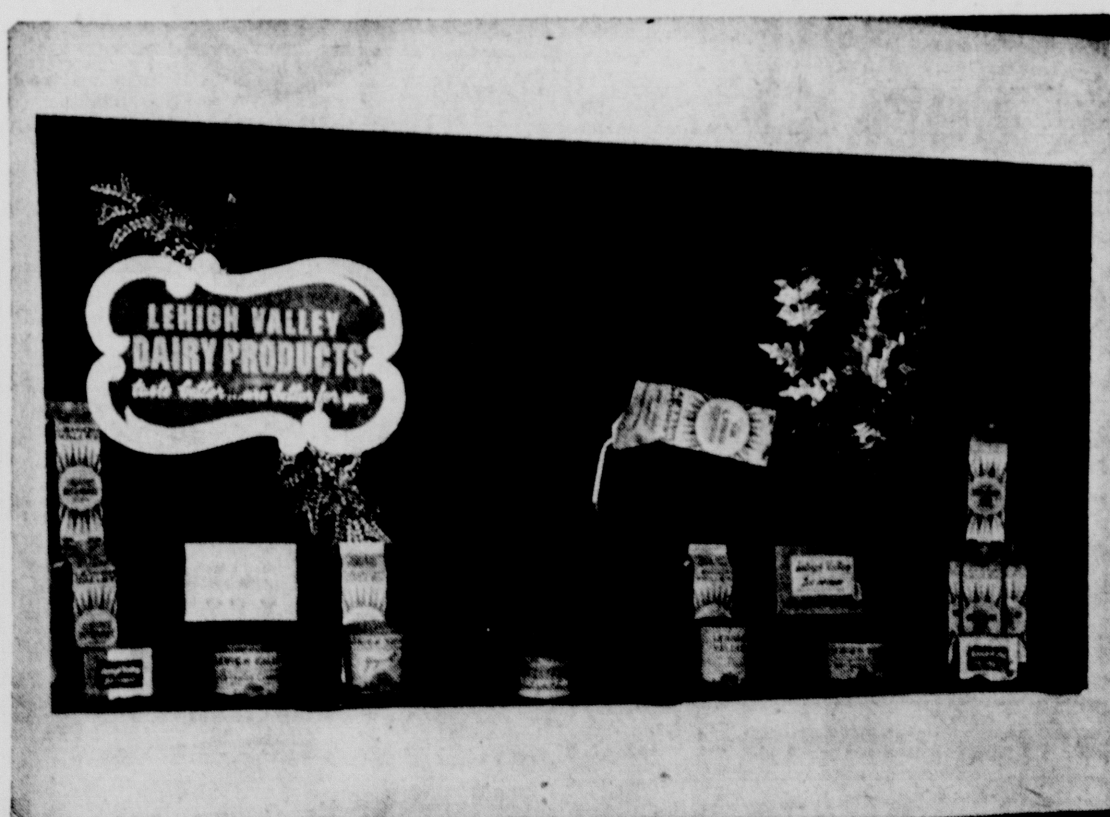

Lowell H. Cross
Advertising Director
Of The Daily Record

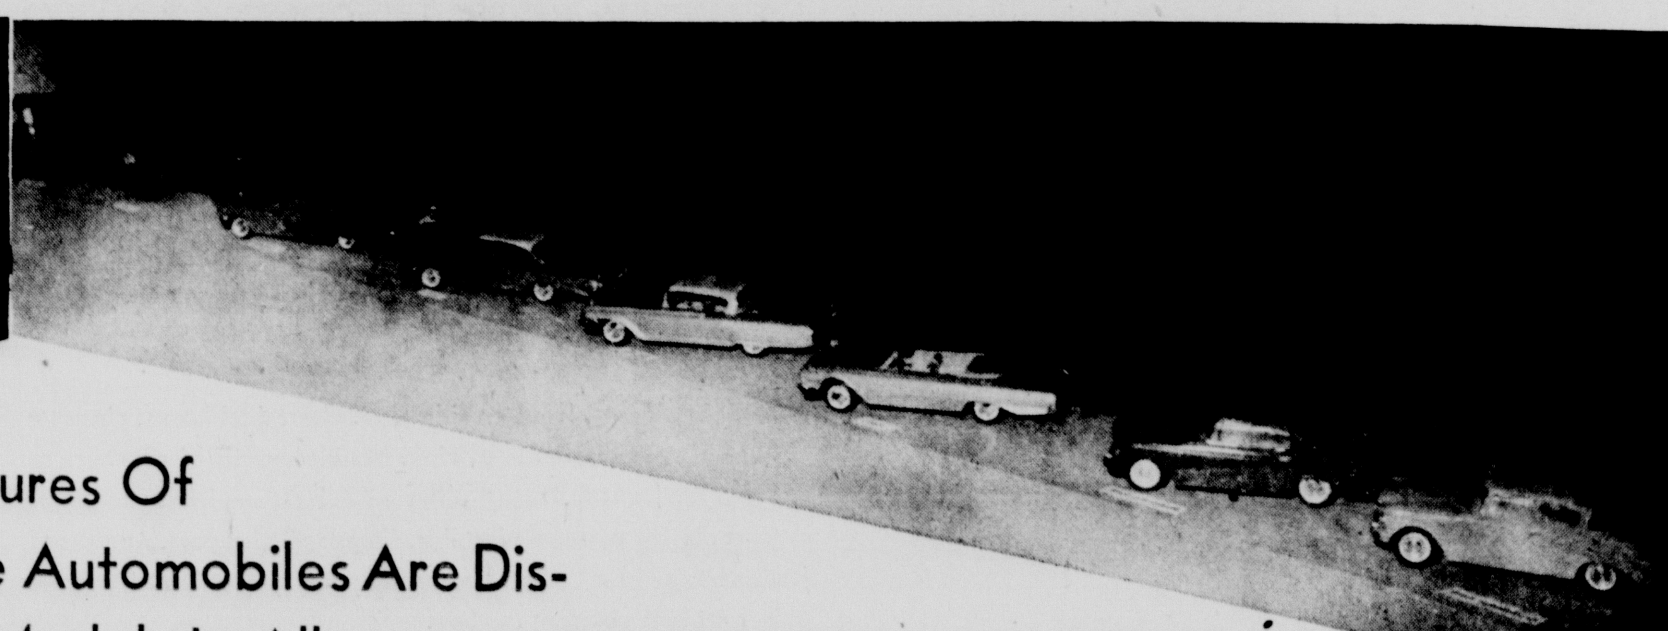

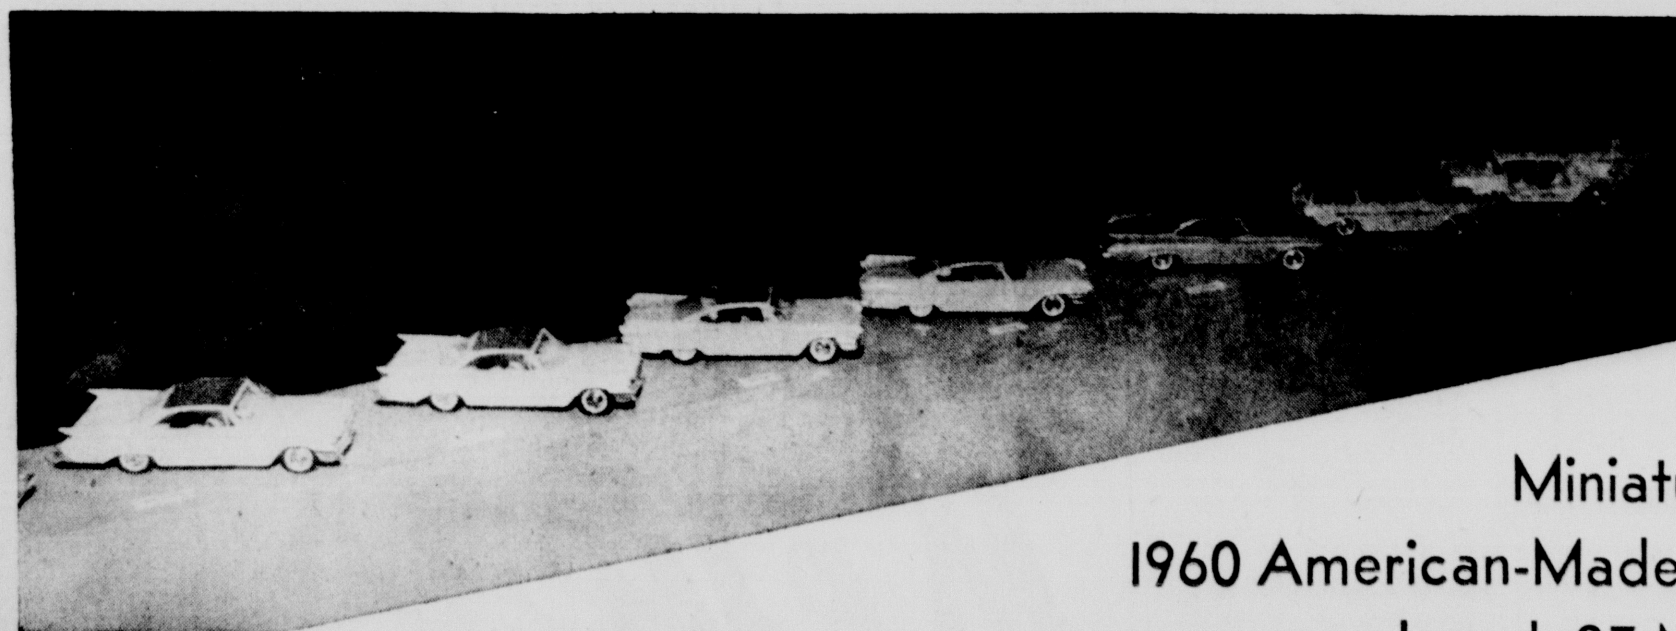

WIDE VARIETY of products prominently displayed in The Daily Record lobby is evident from a study of accompanying photographs. Everything from trading stamps to food to automobiles is included in the display. The products will remain on exhibit for a limited time.

PM High School Selected To Give Talent Tests

POCONO Mountain Joint High Schools, which comprise Barrett, Coolbaugh, Pocono and Tobyhanna Townships, have been selected by the Project Talent office of the University of Pittsburgh to give Talent Tests to all pupils in grades 9 through 12.

The tests will be given during the week of March 28 by each school. These schools are the only schools in Monroe County to give these series of tests.

All the students of each high school are scheduled to receive a series of tests designed by some of the leading educational researchers of the country as part of the first national inventory of the aptitudes and abilities of American youth. Approximately 460,000 high school students, drawn from all of the 50 states, will participate in this representative census which tests young people not only for their ability in ordinary school work, but for their basic aptitudes. The students are also asked a wide range of general information questions based on current events and general knowledge which a person gets from out-of-school sources.

Follow-up Studies

There will be follow-up studies, it was said by the school official making the announcement here, Supervising Principal C. Willis Dunlap.

One year from now, the members of the senior classes who will have graduated and gone out to further schooling or to employment in farm, factory, and office, will be queried as to their occupation and interest in further training and education. Each of the four classes will be followed up. According to the plan of this survey, administered by the University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, with funds from the Office of Education and other federal agencies, it should be possible to learn a great deal about the educational system of America and about the talents of American youth by testing them one year and then following up a year later and several years later. By this means the planners of the inventory hope to learn how educational background and interests work together to lead various kinds of talents into various professions.

What Youth Have

At a meeting in connection with the recent national gathering of school administrators at Atlantic City, the head of Project TALENT, Dr. John C. Flanagan, professor at the University of Pittsburgh, told school administrators: "Project TALENT will help local and national planning groups to determine what the youth of 1960 have to offer. How many have the mathematical aptitude to achieve satisfactory marks in college calculus, for example? How many have the mechanical aptitude necessary to become first class garage mechanics? The nation needs superior electronics technicians and machinists, as well as creative scientists and writers. This inventory will sample the talents necessary for all types of work."

Educational researchers wish to determine the importance of aptitudes, education and guidance programs in assisting the student to identify, develop, and use all his talents. The study will furnish facts for planning various types of local school programs and the TALENT program includes public, private, and parochial schools in all types of urban and rural communities. How successful have they been in developing the aptitudes of their students? "Good teachers are interested not only in the progress made in the basic educational skills of reading, writing, and arithmetic," Dr. Flanagan said, "but in the various types of knowledge acquired both in and out of the classrooms."

For each student, 65 scores, 800 items of information regarding plans, preferences and backgrounds, and 300 items describing his local school guidance and educational programs will be recorded on magnetic tape. (Electronic computers now make possible analysis of such extensive data.) A follow-up study will compare these factors with his subsequent success and failures.

Reprisals Feared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Payola investigators checking up on disc jockey Dick Clark report fear of reprisals is making many prospective witnesses reluctant to talk. They are afraid their records and songs won't be played on Clark's television programs or on other shows if they tell of their dealings with him.

College Bound?

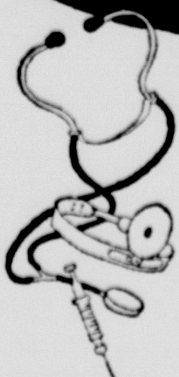

Project TALENT will also determine the number of students who are planning to enter college and advanced training during the next four years. "It will include estimates of the number of potential teachers, physicians, lawyers, physicists, engineers, nurses, biologists, metallurgists, and so forth, who will seek training and the number who plan to enter careers in public service, business administration, the humanities and the arts."

The scores from individual schools will not be released by Project TALENT, but will be reported to the schools for their own use. The scores of students will not be compared publicly by any agency of Project TALENT, but will be available for counselors to use in guiding students in vocational decisions. The purpose of the study is not to compare one school against another, but to learn on a national basis what talents are possessed by American youth and what kind of abilities and education lead to various kinds of careers.

Dr. Roy Hackman, Temple University, is director for Eastern Pennsylvania.

How Much Good Will Raising The Basket Do?

IS RAISING THE basket height to 12-feet the answer to stopping the so-called giants from ruining the game of basketball?

One of the first organized efforts to raise the buckets failed to provide much of an answer.

In the 1946-47 National Basketball Coaches Guide, George R. Edwards reported on a 1946 game played between New Mexico School of Mines and Drury College.

New Mexico had far the taller team, with players ranging from six feet to seven feet, one inch in height, while Drury had much shorter players.

The basket height was 12-feet, each field goal was counted as three points and the distance behind the basket to the out-of-bounds or base line was six feet instead of four, to allow more space for shots that fell short.

New Mexico won 84-51 using its height to score on short rebound shots. Drury found its fast break almost useless as it was impossible to hit on running close-in shots.

Had the game been played under the two point for field goal scoring, the Miners would still have won 59-45.

East Stroudsburg To Play On Saturday Night

Four of the five East Stroudsburg High School home football games will be played on Saturday night this year. The Thanksgiving Day affair with Stroud Union will be at 10 a.m.

The Saturday night games were decided on to eliminate any conflicts with Stroud Union's schedule and to increase attendance.

Tony Salerno, East Stroudsburg State College hoops, has been selected on Montclair State College's all opponent team. Salerno scored 22 points against the Jersey team and Russ Hopewell tallied 26. Hopewell was not mentioned on the first or second team.

Trotters And Pacers Are Harness Horses

There are two types of races run at harness tracks, pacing and trotting.

The trotters are diagonally galloped animals, with the left front and right hind legs moving together. Pacers are laterally galloped with the right front and right hind legs moving in unison.

The Monroe County Bowling Assn. championship will run from May 14 to May 21 at the Pocono Bowling Center and Colonial Lane. Entries close April 29.

During the 1959 hunting season, there was a non-fatal accident for every 1,976 hunters and a fatal accident for every 57,647 hunters.

Safety Clothing Might Have Prevented Accidents

And of 513 persons shot while hunting, 109 were not wearing safety colored clothing.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission suggests that hunters need not put away their guns once the game season closes. The group recommends bob cat hunting. Two fairly large cats were caught in Bradford County recently.

Eddie Yankenchek's heavyweight bout on the Friend's of Boxing Show at Carbondale Saturday, was called-off when the former East Stroudsburg High School footballer's opponent failed to show.

Loftus Motors Tops Brite For Varsity 'S' Cage Title

LOFTUS Motors of Scranton put all of its starters in double-figures and whipped Brite Cleaners 98-84 for the Varsity "S" Club basketball tournament last night.

Tami's Dress Shop, behind John Murphy's 29 points beat Bogart Builders of Allentown 96-72 for third place.

Scott Weaver of Tami's, who led the ESSC Junior varsity in scoring this season, edged Russell Hopewell by one vote for the tourney's Most Valuable Player award.

Hopewell was named to the all-tourney team along with Ed Kazakovich, Joe Maiorillo, Charley Ross and Art Toth. Murphy missed the first team by a vote.

Brite, the East Stroudsburg State College varsity, played like a college team for only the first 14 minutes of the game and went scoreless for five minutes late in the first half.

With six-foot, seven-inch Bob Bessoir and six-foot six-inch Ed Kazakovich grabbing most of the rebounds, Loftus began pulling away with about five minutes left in the opening half.

Brite had managed to keep it fairly close until that point, but suffered a scoring famine, while the visitors rolled to a 46-32 lead. With only 46 seconds left in the half, Al Stockholm hit on a pair of foul shots and Tony Salerno added a singleton to break the drought.

In the second half Brite tried a full-court press but Loftus found enough chinks in the armor to up its lead to 20 points, midway through the half.

Jerry Davies, who led all scorers with 23, Bessoir and Kazakovich teamed for 15 quick points to open the flood gates.

Russ Hopewell, who hit five of his first six shots and posted 11 points in the opening seven minutes of the game, managed only five more in the rest of the contest and ended with 16 points.

Hopewell spent about seven minutes on the bench with four fouls.

Brief Fight

Tony Salerno added 15 points and Larry Walsh, who had a brief scrap with Loftus' Hal Franklin, also added 15.

Brite dropped its pattern-attack early in the second half and tried to close the margin by fast breaking.

The Cleaner five got the break moving but could connect on the end.

Flashy Clay Is Olympic Medal Hope

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam's brightest Olympic boxing prospect of the moment is an 18-year-old Louisville high school student whose great grandfather was a Kentucky slave.

Cassius Marcellus Clay is the potential gold medal winner. He is a self-made boxer who has copied a bit of the styles of four pros and made it click for National AAU and National Golden Gloves championships.

The 6-foot-2, 175-pounder displayed his unique and winning style in capturing the intercity Golden Gloves heavyweight crown at Madison Square Garden Monday night. A year ago the talkative youngster won the gloves' 175-pound crown and the AAU title in the light heavy class.

"I copied my left hook from Floyd Patterson, my lightning from Ray Robinson, my backpedaling and hit and move from Hurricane Jackson and my shuffle from Kid Gavilan," said Clay Tuesday.

Cassius showed off all four styles in stopping 220-pound Gary Jewish of Chevy Chase, Md., in the third round Monday night but he also displayed very orthodox jabs, hooks, and very fast hands.

Next boxing stop for Cassius is the AAU championships at Toledo, Ohio, April 7-9. He will defend his light heavyweight title. Then comes the sectional and final Olympic tryouts.

McIntire Wins Carolina Golf

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Barbara McIntire won her second North and South Amateur Golf Championship in four years Tuesday, defeating Joanne Goodwin, 5 and 4, in the 18-hole final.

Miss McIntire, the National Amateur champion, was 3-up at the turn and after losing the 10th hole won three of the next four to close out her rival.

Miss McIntire was 2 over par for the 14 holes the match ran.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Wednesday, March 23, 1960
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Excellent for interchange of ideas, planning business, planning future. Of course, don't neglect "mundane" routine or essential, "chore" type of things. April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — The sedition of daily tasks should not weary your enthusiasm for accomplishment. The world gives no one a free ride to success. Diligence, hard work, perseverance are required. May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — The satisfaction of a job well done can be yours this day. Influences favorable, all that is needed is your earnest cooperation. Proceed with-out worry, pressure, lack of plan. June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Keep eyes open to current opportunities. The alert, active person will reap heat pending rewards. Remember, our luck comes from within. Do not aid our advance, help you progress. July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Victories that guide Gemini and Leo. Yours. Much to be accomplished through judicious handling, consistent effort. Auxiliary problems may arise to distract, don't veer from objective. August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — You are an ardent patron of the music and the arts. An interesting to fellowman, effective spokesman for whatever your project. Be amenable to changing conditions. September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You are a natural leader. A few days' movements. How to improve self to benefit from experience of others. Do not jump into midst of things without predetermined plan, program. October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Being industrious. It is at times hard for you to take things in order of importance. Quality of work not quantity prerequisite for achievement, remember. Live within finances.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Whatever your occupation, do it in a shipshape manner. Friends likely to assist in return for good deed on your part. Tact, restless attitude, pointless chatter.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Under press of business, maintain calm exterior. Fine sense of balance. Excitability reduces efficiency, performance. Look to old friends, loved ones for help.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — The speed with which you adapt self to changing horizons can well spell your measure of success. The unexpected must not deter your quest toward higher goals.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Today especially favors indulging natural labor, construction, buying, selling, the arts. Trade, dicker, but all in good faith. Be sure that your bargain is in name only.

Eisenhower Nominates Two

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower nominated Oliver H. Metcalf yesterday for another four-year term as federal marshal in the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

He also sent to the Senate the nomination of Arnold J. Polidori as postmaster of Archbald, Pa. Both nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

The LOVERS

starring Joanne MARINO - Jean MARC BERRY - Directed by Louis MALLE - A Youth International Release

The Big Fisherman At Grand

BIG IS A proper word for Rowland V. Lee's multi-million dollar screen version of "The Big Fisherman," filmed in color by Technicolor.

It is based on the big-selling (1 million) novel by Lloyd C. Douglas and has been translated into 20 different languages. The story concerns the biggest man involved in the founding of Christianity: Simon, so huge, he was known throughout the Holy Land as the Big Fisherman until he became St. Peter.

The cast is one of the biggest assembled for a Hollywood production, with 26 principal roles, 88 other speaking parts and 450 extras. Heading the list are Howard Keel, John Saxon, Susan Kohner, Martha Hyer, Herbert Lom, Ray Stricklyn, Alexander Scourby, Rhodes Reason, Beulah Bondi and Jay Barney.

Cost Large
The cast is so big that a special assembly line had to be devised to process it each morning for wardrobe, makeup and hairdressing. Manning this assembly line were 22 makeup artists, 25 hairdressers and six body makeup people — more than there are in the casts of most pictures.

Nearly 6000 property items (movable objects) were used in "The Big Fisherman," the biggest number ever gathered for a single Hollywood production. They range in size from Simon's 40-foot fishing boat down to tiny Roman coins.

Seventy-three major sets — the biggest number ever used to background a motion picture since before the war — were necessary for "The Big Fisherman."

All of which, as you can see, could only add up to BIG in any language. Today at the Grand.

If you can't get behind a movement for the good of the community, the least you can do is get out from in front of it.

Eastburg Services Tonight

DIVINE worship will be conducted tonight in the Presbyterian Church of East Stroudsburg. The service is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Frank Wingerter is going to present his third in a series of sermons entitled "The Inspiration of the Cross." The subject for tonight will be "The Commission of the Cross."

Illustrative colored films are used each Wednesday evening for the purpose of clarifying the minister's message. The film to be focused for this occasion is titled "The Return To Jerusalem." It is based on the third verse of the thirteenth chapter of the book of Acts of the Holy Bible.

Hymns Of Passion
Hymns of the Passion are to be sung by the members of the congregation. The Organist will accompany them at the console.

Each family has been given Lenten Folders as an aid toward support of the "One Great Hour of Sharing." To date, every folder should contain at least one dollar-and-seventy-cents.

No one has ever identified the wise man who said: "Some people tell us there ain't no hell, but they never firmed, so how can they tell?"

Dear Abby

Follow Your Heart

Dear Abby: Please don't think I'm childish. I am 21 and have had my share of boy friends. But Abby, I'd rather stay home than go out with a boy who can't dance. Dancing happens to be my greatest pleasure.

Everybody thinks I'm crazy. Especially my mother.

There is one fellow who wants to marry me. He is almost perfect and would make a wonderful husband, but he is a lousy dancer and I do mean lousy. It actually affects the way I feel about him, believe it or not. If he could dance I'd marry him because he is a terrific guy in every other way. Am I wrong to feel like this?

Will I outgrow it?

LOVES TO DANCE

Dear Loves: Your chances for "outgrowing" anything at 21 are small. Life is not one long waltz, dearie. You haven't found the right man yet. When he comes along, you won't care if he has two left feet. You'll follow your heart.

Youth Stabbed To Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John A. Campiglia Jr., 17, was stabbed to death on the steps of his home yesterday.

Neighbors told police a gang of about 30 Negro boys swarmed around Campiglia and another white boy, not identified.

The killing apparently occurred during a South Philadelphia gang fight that started several blocks away, police said.

Police said they believe Campiglia may have been an innocent bystander who happened to be approaching his doorstep when the combatants came by.

He was stabbed in the back. A dragnet was put out in an attempt to round up members of the gang.

New York Butter

NEW YORK (AP)—USDA—Butter offerings ample. Demand fair. Prices unchanged.

Dear Abby: Our handsome 14-year-old son is a failure socially because he talks too much. It is impossible to bring up a single subject but what our boy doesn't have some insane comment to make. And he talks loudly and at great lengths in an effort to dominate every conversation.

Meanwhile he envies his sister who is very plain-looking but speaks only after deep and careful thought. She charms everyone she meets.

How do we tell him, Abby, for his own good, that in conversation it is QUALITY, not QUANTITY that counts?

FOND MOTHER

Dear Mother: In telling a youngster something "for his own good," timing is important. When he is in an especially receptive mood, tell him what you have phrased so well in your letter to me.

Dear Abby: Ever since I've been married (almost nine years) I have been saving for a wedding band for my husband to match the one he gave me. His mother knew it, too. Do you know what happened yesterday? My mother-in-law came over here with a wedding band to match mine for her son! I asked her if I couldn't pay for it and she wouldn't let me. Are mothers buying their sons wedding bands these days, Abby? I am so hurt over this, if it weren't for the children, I'd pack up and disappear. Please advise me fast.

VERY VERY HURT

Dear Hurt: It is up to your husband to tell his mother (respectfully, but firmly) that it is his wife's privilege to buy him a wedding band, and nobody else's. And he should refuse to accept it unless you are allowed to pay for it. If he won't do this, then face it: You are stuck with a poor excuse for a man. Tell him to put the ring through his nose so it will be easier for his mother to lead him around.

Confidential To Neglected And Hurt: Quit feeling sorry for yourself. Think of Whistler's father.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Shoplifting 'Stopper'

KRESGE DRUG STORE, 17 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, has installed a system designed to eliminate shoplifting.

Known as the "See All" reflector service, it is a product of Norman Industries, Inc., and includes four 36-inch reflector mirrors hung from the ceiling.

By using the mirrors, a clerk can see any part of the store from wherever he may be stationed.

Used With Success

Parke W. Unangst, owner, says the system has been used with high success by a West Coast chain store.

Unangst extended an invitation to area merchants who are troubled by shoplifters to inspect the new system and said he will be available to provide details on its operation.

ADVERTISER AT WORK!

Whether it's to aid distraught mothers, busy retailers or manufacturers, advertising is ready with a helping hand. On the pages of this newspaper, right on through the classified, you'll see ads that are working hard to help advertisers sell their products or services.

Advertising helps by spreading the word throughout the length and breadth of the land. As more people are informed, more products are sold. The demand snowballs and causes greater production, resulting in constantly improved products at lower cost.

Nowhere else in the world is advertising used so effectively and extensively—and nowhere else is there such a high standard of living. Advertising helped to bring on this high standard of living. Thus, you are the one who benefits from advertising!

Advertising works for you!
